U.K. Wants Russia
At Korea Parley

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Britain and some other Western Allies were reported today to go on the floor of the UN General Assembly Monday with a demand that Russia and India be included in the forthcoming Korean political conference.

Informed sources said the split between the United States and Britain over the composition of the Korean parley is much more serious than previously indicated.

The British are understood to feel even more strongly about the question of Russian participation than about the possibility of India being given a seat.

The U.S. has indicated that the UN side of the conference should be restricted to the 16 countries which fought under the UN banner in Korea. (For Canadian view, see page 11.)

NON-FIGHTING NATIONS
NEW YORK (UP)—United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld indicated today that he favors including in the Far East peace conference some nations that did not have armed forces in the Korean fighting.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Soviet UN delegate Andrei Vishinsky confers with western diplomats today for the first time since the shooting stopped in Korea.

British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd and Sir Gladwyn Jebb, Britain's permanent delegate to the United Nations, scheduled a meeting with the Russian spokesman.

West Berlin Riot Squads Alerted

BERLIN (UP)—East German Communist leaders were reported today to be organizing a mass attack by Red sympathizers on West Berlin centres distributing "Eisenhower food parcels" to hungry Germans from the Soviet occupied zone.

West Berlin city officials ordered riot squads on an alert and hauled out powerful water cannon and other equipment to deal with the expected attempt to smash the distribution centres and steal their records.

The Reds were said to have decided upon this step after western authorities announced an 11-day extension of American food distribution program which has handed out 17,500,000 pounds of food.

PANMUNJOM, Korea — Another group of Allied prisoners, including Pte. Thomas E. Rothwell of Dundas, Ont., came back to freedom today.

The lone Canadian was classified as "sick or wounded." He had been a prisoner since October of 1952. The Royal Canadian Regiment had listed him missing in action and his release surprised army men here.

Before "Operation Big Switch" started 10 days ago, the Reds said they held 14 Canadian prisoners. Rothwell, 27, was the third to be released and the second "missing" Canuck to turn up alive.

Cpl. Joseph Pelletier, of Chatham, Ont., freed on the first night of the exchange, also had been among 27 men the army listed as missing in action. Only Gnr. Orvil Jenkins of Hamilton and Toronto, freed last Saturday, was on the army's list of 17 Canadians reported prisoners of war.

Urgent Need for New Equipment
Revives Campaign for Funds

By PETE LOUDON

If the current outbreak of poliomyelitis in this city and on Vancouver Island should show a major increase the only isolation and treatment centre, located at Royal Jubilee Hospital, would prove hopelessly inadequate.

Hospital authorities made this admission today, prefacing a direct appeal to the people of Victoria and district for help. "We need more isolation space, and more equipment," administrator George Masters said today.

He said much of the hospital's apparatus, including at least one iron lung, is obsolete. He added that new and safer types of respirators are needed.

Hospital and medical authorities want least of all to create panic but they pointed out that polio hits hardest in a community where it has been unknown in the past. There is no

ISLAND POLIO TOTAL 42

Greater Victoria's toll of polio cases rose to 35 today with admission to Royal Jubilee Hospital isolation of a four-and-a-half-year-old Saanich boy and a 17-year-old Victoria youth.

A 17-year-old Victoria girl reported Thursday as a suspect was found to have a case of flu. She has been discharged.

Seven cases of polio have been reported in the central Vancouver Island Health Centre at Nanaimo since May 7, according to figures released Thursday.

GETTING FOND OF HIM

Chief Now Sure Slimy Monster Is Alligator

NEW HAMBURG, Ont. (BUP)—Police Chief George Thomas admitted today that the people of New Hamburg are getting fonder of their "slimy three-toed monster," which he has identified as an alligator.

The chief said that after identifying the creature he checked in the district and learned that one family had brought back a baby alligator from a vacation in Florida four years ago. It escaped a few months later and, apparently, found friends.

"The folks around here are getting to like the old fellow now," he said. "No one is too eager to shoot him."

Thomas had been gunning for the monster ever since it was first reported early this summer. But he admitted it had made his work easier in some respects.

"Haven't had a drowning in the river this summer," he said. "Nobody dares go swimming."

CPR Earnings Down; Lumber Rates Raised

Canadian Pacific earnings are falling so far behind expectations that the company's maintenance-work program will have to be curtailed.

The announcement, made at Montreal by CPR Vice-President N. R. Crump, came almost simultaneously with a Board of Transport Commission decision confirming a $1,000,000 per year increase in freight rates on West Coast lumber shipped to Toronto, Montreal and other eastern Canadian markets.

The higher rates on lumber moving from B.C. to Eastern Canada were announced May 1 by the railways but were not charged pending decision on an appeal by B.C. Lumber Manufacturers' Association and other B.C. and Alberta trade associations.

Transport Board's decision today authorizes the railways to charge the May 1 tariff, thus boosting freight rate on lumber from Vancouver to Toronto by 14 cents per 100 pounds. This raises the Canadian rate to the same level as charged by American railways on lumber from Seattle destined for Toronto.

Whaley Victor In Seniors For 8th Time

Ralph Whaley, of Seattle today won his eighth Seniors Northwest Golf Association championship.

Whaley defeated defending champion Roger Peck of Tacoma, 4 and 3, in a scheduled 18-hole final at Victoria Golf Club that was tinged with controversy.

A fourth-hole controversy started when Whaley hit a shot to a portion of the course which previously was out of bounds. However, the area has recently been filled in and club professional Phil Taylor ruled that Whaley's shot was in bounds.

Under the previous ruling, the shot would have cost Whaley the hole, but Taylor's ruling enabled him to get a par four and halve the hole.

Civil War Threatens Morocco

RABAT, French Morocco (UP)—Civil war threatened to explode today as the pro-French pasha of Marrakech and 350 tribal chiefs prepared to depose the sultan of Morocco.

Pasha Thami El Mezouari El Glaoui summoned 350 other pashas and caids—local native officials—and 2,000 prominent Moroccans to Marrakech palace where he was expected to proclaim a new ruler.

The choice to succeed to the 26-year-old reign of the sultan was Moulay Mohammed Ben Araf, his first cousin.

According to sources close to El Glaoui, he and the top caids reached their decision Thursday night to depose the sultan, Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef.

100-MPH Wind Sweeps Across Eastern States

1 Death as Hurricane Rips Towards N.Y.

NEW YORK (UP)—A howling 100-mile-an-hour tropical hurricane ripped across eastern Virginia today and headed toward the heavily-populated coast of Delaware, New Jersey and New York.

One man was killed when a huge wave washed him from a fishing pier at Wrightsville Beach, N.C.

Storm warnings were hoisted north to Cape May, Mass., and Coast Guard stations went on 24-hour alert along the Long Island coast line where thousands of vacationers occupy cottages on the low dunes of sand-spit islands.

Police warned New York harbor shipping to batten down for a big blow expected this afternoon.

Waves "as tall as buildings" flung debris upon the beaches from Morehead City to Virginia Beach. Part of the beach front at Virginia Beach was washed away.

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—This great U.S. island base dug in tonight for one of the wildest typhoons ever recorded in the Pacific, only a few hours away.

The army ordered condition 1 alert at 10 p.m. with the storm only about 12 hours away. The typhoon's winds were howling up to 184 miles per hour.

The forward edge of the howling storm, one of the wildest ever recorded in this part of the world, was about 200 miles southwest of this island and was expected to hit Saturday morning.

U.S. Air Force crews reported a barometric pressure reading of only 880 millibars, or just over 26 inches of mercury, believed to be "very close to an all-time low reading."

No Facts Yet
Offered on Launch Story

A $25 reward offered by the Times for information about a supposed launch sinking off Clover Point in the early hours of Wednesday has so far failed to produce any result.

The reward was offered Thursday after a check on all available sources had failed to confirm a report that three people were blown out of a boat in an explosion and rescued by a man in a rowboat.

Up to press time today no one had come forward with any information about the supposed mishap. Until someone does the Times is regarding the report as an attempted hoax, the reason for which cannot be explained.

Three British naval vessels were on hand. Other British warship, hastily took on supplies for the disaster area.

A steady stream of refugees poured into Argostolion, including walking injured and litter cases. Some of them were practically crawling.

"The people are pouring in and there is no place for them to sleep and nothing for them to eat," the U.S. official said. "Most of all we need water."

TERRIFYING

NAPLES, Italy (UP)—United States sixth fleet headquarters here released today a report sent back by a naval rescue team which described the destruction caused by earthquakes in the Ionian Islands off Greece as "terrifying, sickening and complete."

The graphic description said the city of Argostolion was "completely leveled." It told of men of all nationalities working side by side, despite language difficulties, to help the victims of the worst earthquake in modern Greek history.

The report told of scenes of devastation and of survivors so dazed they scarcely knew what had happened.

The rescue party described its arrival in Argostolion this way:

"The silence of the ruined city is terrifying, as one winds his way through the (relief) tents and up into the town. The silence is broken only by the cries of the injured and the steady crunch of the dirt beneath the heavy shoes of the stretcher bearers."

A Communist brain trust convened at party headquarters to map plans for concentrated, widespread demonstrations next week to coincide with the ninth anniversary of the liberation of Paris.

Informed sources said this effort was aimed at keeping the current general strike from petering out into a series of scattered, ineffective and easily-controlled walkouts, as the government of Premier Joseph Laniel earnestly hopes will happen.

Dead Still Uncounted As 'Quakes Continue

ATHENS, Greece (BUP)—Eleven new earthquakes have hit the islands off the coast of Greece where the death toll is unofficially estimated at nearly 1,000 persons. One temblor crushed a hospital on Zante, burying uncounted numbers of injured persons.

PATRAI, Greece (AP)—Modern Greece's worst disaster continued today to give up its dead and injured in uncounted numbers as fresh earthquakes brought new landslides, fire and misery to three small Ionian Islands.

Air-sea rescue units and supplies from many countries converged on the devastated islands of Zakynthos, Kefallinia and Ithaca. There still were no definite figures on casualties.

The Greek government said the death toll may reach 1,000 but an American observer who flew over the stricken areas said Thursday that all casualty figures "appear to underestimate the situation."

Rescue workers counted more than 400 dead in only two communities.

Hundreds of persons were injured and almost all the 120,000 population were homeless, many without food or water.

Survivors subsisted on greens and roots from their ruined garden plots.

Islanders and thousands of rescue workers spent another night of terror as 11 more earthquake shocks rocked the Ionian Sea area.

American and British sailors are working non-stop alongside Greek troops and rescue squads to bring food, water and medical supplies to the islands.

2,000 TREATED

Most of the 2,000 or more injured were being treated in make-shift tent hospitals and in the open. Many others were brought to this mainland port, the nearest large Greek city.

Fires still raged through towns and villages on the islands, 50 miles off the west coast of Greece. Smoke and dust from huge landslides floated above their rocky hills.

Ships, planes and emergency supplies of food and medicine flooded in to the disaster scene from at least seven countries.

The Canadian Red Cross announced that an emergency supply of 250 cases of clothing stored in Geneva, Switzerland, was en route to the islands.

The U.S. navy organized a relief armada of ships and planes. U.S. transports carried a reinforced battalion of marines to aid in the rescue work, equipment for distilling water and large stores of food and medicine.

U.S. headquarters in Europe gave the Greek quakes "overriding priorities over all other U.S. operations in Europe." All U.S. military exercises on the continent were canceled.

Three British naval vessels were on hand. Other British warship, hastily took on supplies for the disaster area.

Canadian PW Fought Off Reds With Spade

Pte. Thomas Rothwell Tells of Grim Battle on Exchange at Panmunjom; Health Appears Good

IN KOREA (CP)—A grinning, red-haired Canadian soldier today celebrated his seventh wedding anniversary as well as his first day of freedom from a Red prison camp.

Pte. Thomas E. Rothwell, 27, of Dundas, Ont., third Canadian to be exchanged at Panmunjom, and eight Americans repatriated with him today were classed as sick or injured, but none was a litter case.

Medical officers said Rothwell reported stomach trouble recently but said that superficially his condition appears good although he is suffering understandably from nervous excitement.

The first thing he will do on arrival at Britannia Camp is to send a message to his wife, Marion, over army cables.

Rothwell was captured on the night of Oct. 23 last year during the epic battle of the 1st Battalion of the Royal Canadian Regiment in defense of Little Gibraltar.

His company's position was over-run in a two-battalion Chinese attack but was later re-occupied by the RCR's. Speaking with a slight stutter, the likeable soldier told of fighting for three hours last Oct. 23, armed only with a spade.

When the Chinese barrage descended, he was manning a Bren gun in a weapon pit. The barrage destroyed both pit and gun and after digging himself out, the only weapon he could find was a shovel.

"I sure fought with it," he said. "I don't know how many Chinese it quietened."

Finally he found a rifle that had belonged to a dead comrade and joined two other Canadians in a forward part of the position.

"Our ammunition gave out 35 minutes later. Then we hid in a trench waiting for the battalion's counter-attack to come in. But at about 10 minutes past 12 midnight, 15 Chinese in a mopping up party found us."

Rothwell was captured exactly a year after he enlisted in the army.

Although his weight dropped from 156 pounds to his present 122, Rothwell said "our treatment was correct, certainly not severe."

"We neither saw nor heard of brutal treatment there," he added.

Rothwell said political indoctrination was in the form of private "interviews" on political ideas with occasional mass meetings.

He said food improved in the camp after the armistice with eggs, ham, powdered milk, pork and beef added to the previous regime of boiled potatoes, turnips, rice and broth.

He didn't see any of the nine Canadians again after he began his walk through the Chinese line. While in hospital, he chatted with the only Canadian he saw until he returned to South Korea.

Cpl. Pelletier said Gnr. Orville J. Jenkins of Hamilton and Toronto visited the hospital to see some American friends and that he talked with Jenkins for 20 minutes. He didn't see him again during his three months and two days in captivity.

"I don't know how Jenkins could visit the hospital," he said under questioning from reporters.

Jenkins, the second Canadian released by the Reds, now is in Tokyo preparing to fly home.

At no time, Pelletier said, was his group forced to take "political studies," although there was "plenty of propaganda."

burp gun bullets when captured. Cpl. Pelletier said the prisoners saw vapor trails lacing the sky from a jet dog-fight but that it was too far away to keep score.

Anxious to get home, he will spend a day in military hospital here for a checkup before continuing east by air.

He was moved to a camp near the Yalu River and then to a hospital outside the camp for his operation.

Forced to Dig Himself Out

When the Chinese barrage descended, he was manning a Bren gun in a weapon pit. The barrage destroyed both pit and gun and after digging himself out, the only weapon he could find was a shovel.

"I sure fought with it," he said. "I don't know how many Chinese it quietened."

Finally he found a rifle that had belonged to a dead comrade and joined two other Canadians in a forward part of the position.

"Our ammunition gave out 35 minutes later. Then we hid in a trench waiting for the battalion's counter-attack to come in. But at about 10 minutes past 12 midnight, 15 Chinese in a mopping up party found us."

Rothwell was captured exactly a year after he enlisted in the army.

Although his weight dropped from 156 pounds to his present 122, Rothwell said "our treatment was correct, certainly not severe."

"We neither saw nor heard of brutal treatment there," he added.

Rothwell said political indoctrination was in the form of private "interviews" on political ideas with occasional mass meetings.

He said food improved in the camp after the armistice with eggs, ham, powdered milk, pork and beef added to the previous regime of boiled potatoes, turnips, rice and broth.

He didn't see any of the nine Canadians again after he began his walk through the Chinese line. While in hospital, he chatted with the only Canadian he saw until he returned to South Korea.

Cpl. Pelletier said Gnr. Orville J. Jenkins of Hamilton and Toronto visited the hospital to see some American friends and that he talked with Jenkins for 20 minutes. He didn't see him again during his three months and two days in captivity.

"I don't know how Jenkins could visit the hospital," he said under questioning from reporters.

Jenkins, the second Canadian released by the Reds, now is in Tokyo preparing to fly home.

At no time, Pelletier said, was his group forced to take "political studies," although there was "plenty of propaganda."

Anxious to get home, he will spend a day in military hospital here for a checkup before continuing east by air.

He was moved to a camp near the Yalu River and then to a hospital outside the camp for his operation.

Ceylon Riots Toll 21

Demonstrations Spread to Prison

COLOMBO, Ceylon (UP) — Communist-led riots which are blamed unofficially for the deaths of 21 persons and injuries to 175 spread today to one of Ceylon's largest prisons.

The riotous demonstrations have swept Ceylon in protest to the policies of the government of Premier Dudley Senanayake.

Bren guns were mounted on the walls of the Mahara prison north of here this morning after inmates staged what officials described as an organized attempt to break out.

A state of emergency declared by the premier failed to halt the violence.

Mobs swarmed through the streets and blocked roads in many parts of the country.

Five persons were killed near Galle where rail communications were disrupted. Police injured 40 demonstrators and arrested 380 who rioted in protest against Senanayake's ban on demonstrations.

Britain to Abandon Tax-Free Clothes Plan

LONDON (Reuters) — The coupon system under which overseas visitors have been able to buy clothes in Britain tax-free will end this year, Tailor and Cutter, self-styled arbiter of men's fashions, announced today. Government disappointment at the lack of response to the plan was blamed.

WELL PRESERVED

REFUGEES SUSPECT REDS

Scotland Yard Puzzled By Priest's Disappearance

LONDON (UP) — The mysterious disappearance of a humble anti-Communist Polish priest struck fear today into the hearts of East European refugees in Britain.

Where is Father Henry Borynski? Scotland Yard doesn't know. New clues in the past few days have led to dead ends. Intelligence men and police said they were as ignorant of the priest's whereabouts as they were more than a month ago when he left his parish in the city of Bradford after receiving a mysterious telephone call.

The principal theories are that Red agents kidnapped Father Borynski and smuggled him back into Poland, or that Communists killed him.

When the priest went to the north England wool centre last October to succeed Canon Bolelaw Martyniell as priest for the city's 1,600 Poles, there were public complaints that two men from the Soviet embassy were trying to persuade refugees in Bradford, to go behind the Iron Curtain again.

The jovial, six-foot clergyman immediately became a leader of Bradford's anti-Communists and helped Scotland Yard ease the pressure on the refugees.

MYSTERY CALL

On a Monday evening a month ago, the priest received a mysterious call. He was heard to say in Polish: "Now this has come. I go."

Father Borynski had only two shillings and six pence (about 30 cents) when he walked out, leaving behind all his clothes and personal effects.

CURVACEOUS film star, Marilyn Monroe, was nursing a badly sprained ankle today after an accident near Jasper, Alta., Thursday which saw actor Robert Mitchum plunge into the swift-flowing waters of Maligne River to save the blonde bombshell. Miss Monroe, in the Rockies for the filming of 20th Century Fox's "River of No Return," was wearing chest-high rubber waders, when she slipped on a rock and was unable to reach shore as the waders rapidly filled with water. Mitchum leaped in and pulled the actress to safety with the aid of a dozen film crewmen. (CP Photo)

LAST DAY FOR APPEALS

Seaway Power Plan Nears Green Light

OTTAWA (CP) — The chances of a fast start on the St. Lawrence seaway-power project will be determined today.

This is the deadline for the filing of any court appeals against granting of a power license to New York State. There are none in prospect.

If New York gets the license from the United States, federal power commission, it will join Ontario in building the $450,000,000 hydro development, and the $300,000,000 navigation works will go ahead concurrently.

As the situation stands now, officials here believe Canada will be in the position of building the navigation works alone on the Canadian side of the river, which the Canadian government wants. Congress at its recent session failed to act on bills providing for U.S. participation in the canals.

Government officials here consider that, should New York get its power license now, both phases of the big job can be in high gear by next spring. Preliminary work is under way and would be stepped up from now on.

There has been some surprise in government quarters that U.S. seaway opponents — railroads and some other interests — have not launched court action against the FPC's announced intention of granting New York the license to share in the 2,200,000-horse-power hydro development on which the whole seaway project hangs.

The additional cost of an all-Canadian seaway gives no worry in Ottawa. The project is intended as a self-liquidating one. It would be financed by bonds paid off over about 40 years through tolls on shipping using the seaway. Most of the tolls would come from U.S. ships.

If there is no court appeal from the FPC decision to give the power license to New York, officials here think a license may be issued by about Monday.

Once that is done, the Canadian government will announce the Canadian personnel of a board of engineers — a joint U.S.-Canadian body — that will have general supervision of the hydro and navigation works. Cabinet has named the personnel, it was learned.

The 3,212-foot Angel Falls, in the Gran Sabana plateau of Venezuela, are the highest in the world.

2,000 Crowd Central Park Square Dance

An estimated 2,000 persons were in Central Park Thursday night to watch or take part in the square dance jamboree put on by the Square Dance Show Boat and co-sponsored by the Greater Victoria Parks Board and the YMCA.

The Square Dance Show Boat troupe arrived in Victoria, Thursday, aboard the 110-foot cruiser, Mv. Warbler, and will leave for Friday Harbor, tonight. They put on a dance show at each port of call.

This is the group's fifth annual cruise. It was organized in 1949 by Pat Norris, who at that time was a professional scout leader in Newberg, Oregon.

He and some other square dancing enthusiasts thought a boat cruise would be a great idea for a holiday. They approached Art Church of Seattle, owner of the Warbler, an ardent square dancer, and arrangements were made.

Mr. Bennett Learns a Lesson

PREMIER BENNETT, IT IS TO be hoped, learned a bitter but salutary lesson in politics this week.

He was the real leader of the Social Credit campaign. He undoubtedly believed that his own prestige and the power of his provincial government would carry most of the federal seats in British Columbia. And, as he said quite candidly, all this was part of a long-term plan reaching far beyond British Columbia.

He would capture British Columbia for Social Credit as Mr. Manning had captured Alberta. Then, established firmly in the two thriving westernmost provinces, Social Credit would sweep eastward, replacing the Conservative party and capture the federal government, in "two bites." Whereupon, no doubt, Mr. Bennett would emerge as a national figure, perhaps as a Canadian prime minister.

It is clear from the election results that Mr. Bennett knows very little about federal politics. The great plan hatched in his conferences with Mr. Manning is stillborn. The first bite has gripped only four parliamentary seats. British Columbia overwhelmingly rejected Social Credit when it was presented as a federal policy. Its doctrine of perpetual inflation and phony money has failed to break seriously through the barrier of the Rockies and it has been stopped cold on the eastern boundary of Alberta.

Mr. Bennett's naive assumption that the Liberal government could not win a majority, that Social Credit would hold a balance in the new Parliament and proceed to exploit a paralysis of the nation's business may have seemed alarming to some electors. Now, in retrospect it appears only amusing.

The facts of British Columbia politics are now clear after a year or more of confusion. British Columbia elected a Social Credit government provincially not because it believed in Social Credit for a moment but solely to end a stalemate in the legislature. When the electors were asked in federal politics — where Social Credit alone can operate — whether they favored that kind of soft-money revolution their reply was decisive. British Columbia and Canada have repudiated Social Credit.

If Mr. Bennett is wise he will obey that decision, divorce himself from a national program doomed to failure from the start and proceed to concentrate on the provincial business which he was elected to administer. He has no other mandate. The electors, in fact, have told him plainly to return to his job at Victoria, forget Social Credit and leave federal politics to the men elected to manage them.

In the recent federal campaign the Social Credit ministers declared from every platform that they had given British Columbia good government. Actually they have hardly begun to govern at all yet. Until last June they had no majority in the legislature, they postponed all significant decisions, they courted a lack-of-confidence vote and then, according to plan, they won an election when the voters saw no alternative to them. Provincial affairs, in all vital respects, have been at a standstill since the early part of 1952.

No one can yet know, therefore, whether the Bennett government will provide good government or not. Its test is only beginning in the legislative session of September.

Now that the rubble of more than a year's confusion has been cleared away and majority governments are safely installed in Ottawa and Victoria, we hope Mr. Bennett and his colleagues, shorn of their illusions, will get down to business. There is plenty to engage all their talents and no more time left for playing politics.

We also hope that they will begin to redeem their promises by giving good government in the provincial sphere to which the electors have rather angrily confined them. If they will now abandon a monetary nostrum which all Canada refuses to take seriously and tackle the many local problems long left in abeyance they will deserve every opportunity to succeed. They cannot hope to succeed if their minds are pre-occupied with Social Credit, a doctrine which they have vainly advocated but which few of them understand.

A British Carrot for China

THE VAGUENESS WHICH characterized Britain's stand on possible admission of Red China to the United Nations has been somewhat dissipated by the latest government decision.

Britain will urge Red China's acceptance, the U.S. has been told, if the forthcoming conference on Korean peace is successful.

The disclosure makes a clean split between current British and United States intentions. All official U.S. statements have emphasized that Red China "cannot shoot its way into the U.N.," that a U.N. seat will not be granted merely as a bribe to Red China to abandon further aggression, that Chiang Kai Shek's regime on Formosa is still recognized as the legitimate Chinese government.

Prior to the Korean truce, the British government stand, concurred in by the Labor opposition, had been that while Red Chinese representation in the United Nations would give recognition to a political reality, nothing should be done about it while Mao Tse-tung was still conducting a shooting war against the democracies. With the fighting in Korea now halted, the latest announcement sets a definite qualification on further development of the idea.

Red China will now have a concrete goal to achieve at the conference, apart from settlement of the more immediate aspects of the Korean problem. No doubt the British stand has that in mind — a carrot may cause the Communist donkey to make progress which otherwise would not be achieved at talks which most observers have viewed as likely to be protracted and quite possibly unproductive.

Even with British support, of course, Communist China would still have hurdles to overcome.

'No Man Is an Islande . . .'

MANY A CANADIAN, READING of the terrible earthquakes that have struck islands off the Greek shore, will echo the words of sympathy sent to the distressed people by Queen Elizabeth.

The disaster, according to news reports, is of a magnitude comparable to full-scale war, even on the atomic plane. Tremors, mountains splitting open, landslides and all the attendant horrors have made the islands the centre of world concern. British and United States naval aid

There is some doubt that the United States would be able to veto China's acceptance as a U.N. member, however, since the case involves not a new membership but only a change in the representation. And no doubt a number of countries, apart from those in the Communist orbit, would be willing to see Peking rather than Formosa provide the Chinese delegates.

But considerable depends on how far Britain and the United States will be willing to go in risking a serious divergence in their policies. Inclusion or exclusion of Red China in the U.N. in the final analysis must matter much less to either of the democratic partners than does the preservation of their own solidarity on major world problems.

A further question is raised in some quarters — does Russia itself wish to see Red China in the United Nations? Surprising as it might be at first glance, the answer is not the ostensible "of course."

As a non-member, Communist China provides an excellent cause celebre for the communist fight, a touch of the martyrdom and alleged injustice on which so much of Red propaganda depends. Would one more Moscow echo in the General Assembly, even on the Security Council, do the Kremlin's cause more good than the present "righteous indignation" the communists are able to employ? Would, indeed, a China with equal partnership in the U.N. be as useful an ally to Russia as she now is in a more dependent role?

In this light, it may be seen that the possibility of a split in major policy is not confined to the West. The British carrot may contain many more political vitamins than are apparent.

has been volunteered, and no doubt the Red Cross will shortly be represented in the affected area as it has so often responded in the past.

The tragedy that has overtaken whole communities emphasizes our own fortunate situation in this part of the world, as well as our responsibility as humane residents of the globe to contribute whenever possible to the agencies and organizations dedicated to relieving human suffering when nature goes on the rampage.

John Bull in the China Shop

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

IT'S a long time since we've mentioned cookery, my little classmates. We shall remedy that in the next few days. I've lately acquired five or six cook books I'd like to mention. All of them published by Doubleday, who seem to be going in for these things in a big and useful way. More power to them. I'm not sure that it's a good thing to wish more power to a cook's elbow. The better cooks have short fat arms that don't remind you of Joe Louis at all. Though I dare say they could fetch you a swishing blow if you began to hint that the customer is sometimes right.

SUMMER, according to theory, is the worst time to mention cookery. People can't be bothered. In practice, however, people devote more thought to cookery in summer than at any other time except Christmas. For two reasons. The women are busy planning how to stay out of the kitchen, and these plans occupy their minds at all hours . . . physically, they may be out of the kitchen for a few minutes less each day, except on the days when they're trying to get picnic ready, but mentally they're cooking from dawn till dusk. In the interests of speed, efficiency, and freedom from worry.

I rather like kitchens in summer myself, especially if they look onto a garden and you can fling all the doors and windows open, and feel the spilt groceries squishing up through your bare toes. Hot porridge may be tough on bare feet, but cold mayonnaise is lovely. (I hear mayonnaise should never be cold.) In any event, women say kitchens in summer are no good, and that is that.

AS for men, they do more cooking in summer than at any other season. Some of them are batching, and some are camping, and some are trying to take a load off the little woman's shoulders, and some get home from the office to find a note saying the family may be late. For such men, plus those who actually enjoy cooking, Doubleday published "Trader Vic's Kitchen Kibitzer," a "cook-book for men and for the women who cook for men." It came out last year, but it's still pretty new. Long may it stay in print.

AS some of you know, Trader Vic has two wonderful restaurants in Oakland and San Francisco. He also has friends everywhere good food is enjoyed. So he has learnt a thing or two about what men like, and women too. This particular book is only a couple of hundred pages long (he has another, and I'll tell you about that later), and the pages are smallish and the print bigish, and he wastes a good deal of space with chatty remarks. (So do I, but Chips isn't a reference book.)

And some readers may be annoyed by his prose style, which is a conscious effort to sound slangy and thus appeal to the guys, the fellows, the boys, the gang and the bunch. Jeppers, yes. Good slang is a treat. It is also Poor Man's Poetry. (Ask Bertie Wooster.) But regulation one-of-the-guys slang, applied as a top-dressing to make a recipe "readable," can be plumb tedious. It sounds like an article in Esquire after it has been loosened up by the editors. "Men will love it." Will they? Ay, in the catalogue they go for men.

ALL the same, you soon get used to his sentimental tough-talk. It's only a surface fault, and it's not for that you'll consult the book. And when he makes a real joke of his own, which is quite often, he's apt to be pretty good. On the subject of men first discovering herbs, for example, and making everything taste the same by means of rosemary, thyme and marjoram. Or men getting loose in a fancy grocery store for the first time, buying themselves crazy, especially in the matter of herb vinegars.

As for recipes and ideas, he has them in plenty. And as Vic himself points out somewhere or other, one good idea is worth the price of any cook book, if that idea becomes part of your life. I have several dozen ideas from this single book. Nor is it as if cook books were a new world to me. I had 31 good ones when I last counted, and hope to have hundreds before I stop eating.

HE has chapters on backyard cookery, batching, fish and game, odd cuts of meat, show-off cookery (especially setting foods on fire for flavor and display), casual week-ending, drinks, parties that appeal to men, and so on. And very sound he is, too.

Most of the recipes are simple, to suit the purpose of the book, and to suit Vic's role as a violent but cheerful anti-snob. In fact, some of you may be a little shocked to see how much he depends on canned foods . . . even I draw the line at tinned pancakes, but he doesn't! At the same time, he has a very pretty taste in out-of-the-way flavors and experiments. And the imagination on which all cookery is based. As a tiny example, very few cook books warn you (or even know) that there's no use simmering your corned beef unless you have onions and garlic and celery in the water. (Celery tops are as good or better . . . he doesn't mention this. You should always have dried celery tops on hand, for soups, stews, etc.)

THERE is space here for only a random sample now. Here is an unusual sweet: buy some empty puff-paste tart shells at your bakery if you can't make them; mix some Philadelphia cream cheese with thick cream to a buttery mess and spread the bottom of each shell with it, about 1/4 inch thick; put hulled strawberries on this bed, hull-end down, as many as you can fit in; melt currant jelly in double boiler, pour over berries while hot, serve at once.

Aug. 14, 1913—Settlement of the coal mining strike at Nainaimo and Ladysmith which has startled the whole of the Northwest during the past few days is now in sight.

Aug. 14, 1933—Fishermen off the Dallas waterfront were surprised and somewhat alarmed when a large whale spouted within 100 feet of their small craft, they reported today. The big mammal sounded and headed seaward.

As Our Readers See It

MAKES AMENDS

MAY I through your paper clarify a statement made by me and printed in the local paper on election day?

In discussing the convenience and suitability of the polling booths, I remarked that the whole system of using houses was a mistake, and that the government should immediately amend the Elections Act to provide for a more modern way of accommodating the public.

I gave as one instance a polling station just off Pandora on a narrow street that did not provide adequate parking space, and described it as being "a dirty unused room with orange crates for tables to write on." I should not have said "dirty," as I find now that the room had been fairly recently redecorated. That impression must have been gained when I looked at the crates.

I find that the owner of the home is quite annoyed and feels insulted. I hasten to explain that I really did think the house was empty, and I apologize to the owner and his wife.

My criticism was directed at the government agents, and not at the property owners, who tell me the furniture had been removed (with the consent of the government agent) so that it would not be damaged by the public.

I noticed similar precautions taken at other polling stations, and I have every sympathy with those who would protect their furniture, but the point is, however, that it is very humiliating for the general public to be forced in order to cast their vote, to enter homes, the owner of which resents their presence and feels they may contaminate the furniture.

I understand that those in charge had great difficulty in obtaining the required number of polling stations, and were perhaps forced to accept some which were not entirely suitable. I have in mind one place that was a basement, and had very steep steps which would be a great obstacle for our elderly voters.

We must remember that the public pay for these elections and are entitled to every consideration.

PARTING SHOT

The election is over, and the government of waste, extravagance and reckless spending of public monies, has been given a mandate to carry on. One of the most despicable and below-the-belt hits of the campaign has been that of decent, honorable men whose desire is to serve their country, being put on a par with robbers and murderers such as Hitler and Mussolini. You and your contemporary should be ashamed of having taken part in a thing so un-British and utterly contemptible by giving it wide publicity.

ABOMINABLE, ATROCIOUS?

Extract from Illustrated London News, by the late Graham Robertson, artist critic, writing on modern works:

"I cannot regard them with any lenience. To me, they are abominable, atrocious, obscene, and the school is, not new. In my youth, earnest young artists of this school used to scrawl similar drawings with chalk upon blank walls and in public latrines.

And were their works appreciated and bought for the nation? Not at all. They obtained no recognition, or if they were recognized they usually got seven days without option.

I think that these things represent the outcome of a hideous and insane period in the world's history, but their interest is purely pathological and their place is in a medical institution and not in art galleries."

FLORENCE MARY NEWLING.

DEFENDS CATS

The letter in last Monday's Daily Times is to my mind quite incorrect in saying about that intelligent animal, the cat, that they are carriers of disease. I rather believe what a known authority has written about them, that "the cat gets blamed for carrying more diseases than they are guilty of." I've had cats around me nearly all my life and never have I contacted anything from them.

If a person keeps them well fed they won't go in dirty places or old garbage cans looking for food. I'm a member of the "Cats Protective League" and many a cat has been looked after and homes provided often for them by this humane society and other animal societies. No poor animal has been more abused than the affectionate cat.

As L. Adams Beck has written in her book entitled "The Way of Power," "Wordsworth and greater minds than his have been content to learn from what we proudly call the lower forms of life."

"ANIMAL LOVER."

SCIENCE OF GOVERNMENT

Your editorials, "A Policy of Unity" and "The Opposition Should be Revived," should be studied by all parties. Then there is the great body of voters who do not know whom and what they are voting for!

A top-heavy government eventually comes to grief. Men and women being what they are, need correction, and power is a dangerous weapon.

As we raise the calibre of our public men and the "splinter parties" have done much to accomplish this, a strong opposition should form itself and the education of the public to realize balance is the key to good government.

Will the new government do anything now to tackle the cost of living or will the spending spree continue? "To be, or not to be, that is the question?"

A. CAROLYN BAYFIELD.

FOREVER

The supreme task of statesmanship is to abolish unemployment and the poverty which accompanies it; to raise the standard of living both morally and physically; to endorse humanitarianism, and to insure an everlasting democracy composed of freedom and liberty in the highest degree.

Both Canadian and American officials expound with vigor that our countries have an abundance of these virtues of good government.

A careful study of these claims will reveal that our neighbors to the south will have to take second place to Canada in the effort of reaching this supreme goal.

The political machines of the Democrats and Republicans have become so powerful in the U.S. that they are only one step from a dictatorship. Only the equal balance of power between the two groups holds this threat in check.

Instead of heading towards the supreme form of good government the U.S. is going backwards while we go forward.

At present, with four major parties in Canada, the minority groups are free to express their views and can keep the majority groups on their toes. In the U.S. both parties are so similar that any minorities are crushed while in the bud.

The only difference between the Democrat and the GOP is the name. In Canada each party has its distinct differences, from monetary reform to real communism.

This makes for good government. All those points of our parties that are of benefit to the people are eventually instituted by our governments, federally and provincially.

Let us hope that our parliamentary system in Canada remains forever.

"O. H. CANADA."

SUPPORTS PROTEST

I am in full agreement with Rev. Dr. J. B. Rowell in his protest against the suggestion that Canada send a government representative to the Vatican. Protestants respect all adherents of other religions, but would be false to their own convictions if they did not defend the purpose of the Reformation.

H. ARNOLD.

How Troubles Get Around

New York Times

It is not good news that three kinds of cockroaches hitherto strangers to these shores have been found here. There are more than a thousand species of cockroaches and therefore perhaps the discovery—announced the other day by the alert Smithsonian Institution—of three of these in the United States, where they have not been in numbers before (and have no business being at all), suggests, at first glance, no cause for concern.

Unfortunately, we have plenty of roaches already—the American cockroach (Periplaneta americana), the common wood roach (Parcoblatta pennsylvanica), and Oriental roach (Blattella orientalis) and the highly destructive Blattella germanica, commonly known as the German roach or Croton bug.

However, the Smithsonian reports that one of the three invaders, the Madeira roach (Leucophaea maderae), which apparently has been brought into New York City by immigrants from the West Indies, "has proved to be an unabated nuisance" and "if allowed to spread, it will gradually develop into a serious pest."

The other two—the spotted Mediterranean roach that has appeared on Cape Cod and a greyish East African roach discovered in Florida—although objectionable arrivals do not, at the moment, promise to be as obnoxious as the Madeira variety.

The roach was one of the earliest forms of insect life to appear and, before birds and animals developed, is thought to have been more numerous than any other insect. Fossil remains dating from the Coal Age indicate that the roach has changed little over millions of years; it is one of the fastest runners among insects, a talent that no doubt has aided its thriving survival.

It has been this country's misfortune to see many of its most destructive pests arrive from abroad, or rather to fail to see them until they had become firmly established.

The Madeira roach is but one in a long line of invaders. A ship that touched at New Orleans in 1891 brought the Argentine ant, destructive to field crops and stored foods.

In 1892 the boll weevil entered the United States from Mexico and at the rate of approximately 20,000 square miles a year spread over the cotton-growing regions of the South. (There are lesser weevils: acorn, hickory nut, chestnut, grain, palm, strawberry, clover, bean and pea weevils, to name a few.)

The alfalfa weevil was discovered in Utah in 1902, having been brought there on soil clinging to imported plants.

A shipment of broom corn from Europe in 1909 was responsible for the arrival of the corn borer (one of 350 insect pests, incidentally, that feed on corn).

When, in 1913, the city of Tokyo presented to Washington a number of cherry trees the gift also included inadvertently some specimens of the Oriental fruit moth, which turned out to be costly to American peach growers. The gipsy moth, which has damaged so many trees in New England, was in 1869 imported from Europe. Cottonseed from Mexico in 1916 brought the pink boll worm. Also in 1916 arrived, as stowaways on trees shipped to New Jersey from Japan, that now ubiquitous pest the Japanese beetle. In 1929—a bad year—the satin moth that attacks poplars and willows arrived, from Europe, in Massachusetts; the Asiatic beetle—a lawn pest—was found in Connecticut, and the Mexican bean beetle invaded Alabama.

Now the new roach trio takes its place in this procession of invaders of which, no doubt, the end is not yet.

HAS TO COME OUT

The way to resume is to resume. It is the only way. To resume. If you feel this book deeply it will come as deep as your feeling is when it is running truest and the book will never be truer or deeper than your feeling because, though you may think it is all there, all crystallized, you have not let it run. So how can you know what it will be? What will be best in it is what you really do not know now. If you knew it all it would not be creation but dictation. No book is a book until it is done, and you cannot say you are writing a book while you are just writing on sheets of paper and all that is in you has not yet come out.

—Gertrude Stein in "The Creative Process"

Behind the Malenkov Bomb

THE right way to understand Georgi Malenkov's claim to know the secret of the hydrogen bomb, is as part of a much larger whole. Even a Soviet hydrogen bomb would not be a danger to the United States, all by itself. But it is a very great danger indeed, as one part in a gigantic machine of Soviet power which is now nearing completion.

As to the specific problem of the bomb, it now seems to be fairly well established that no Soviet test explosion has occurred as yet. According to reliable report, at any rate, no sign of an explosion has yet been picked up by the American long range detection system.

What is now expected, therefore, is a Soviet repetition of America's Eniwetok test of 1951. Before very long, if the forecasters are correct, they will try out a weapon like the chief bomb of the U.S. 1951 Eniwetok series.

If this is the sort of thing Malenkov was talking about, there is no reason to adjust past estimates of the Soviet atomic progress, which placed the beginning of the time of real danger towards the end of next year.

Unfortunately, however, there are excellent reasons to adjust past estimates of a related Soviet effort—the build-up of the Soviet Long Range Air Army, which gives meaning to Soviet atomic power.

In brief, it is now confirmed that the Soviets have started quantity production of the TU-31—a big turbo-jet bomber comparable in range and other characteristics to America's B-36. The TU-31 will give the Long Range Air Army what it has heretofore lacked, the ability to make round-trip attacks on American targets from bases on Soviet territory.

In addition, there are good reasons to believe that the Soviets now have the prototype of a giant jet bomber comparable to the U.S. B-52—America's most advanced bomber. This new plane, if its existence is confirmed, will put Soviet strategic air development almost on a par with that of the U.S.

Finally, to complete this pattern of growing Soviet air-atomic strength, there are the marked peculiarities of the new Soviet budget, which Malenkov announced with such a flourish.

Malenkov made no mention whatever of two features of the budget which are deeply disquieting.

On the one hand, all the grandiose capital projects of Stalin's old age have now been canceled. For instance, the dead dictator's heirs have stopped construction of the canal from the Aral Sea to the Caspian Sea, and the tunnel from Sakhalin, under the Straits of Tartary, to the Siberian mainland. By so doing, they have proportionally increased the already enormous capital funds available for more immediately useful purposes, such as expansion of aircraft production.

On the other hand, "residual" expenditures have also been enormously increased, from 28.5 billion rubles in the 1952 budget, to no less than 73.9 billion rubles in this year's budget.

This special category of outlays is never itemized in the Soviet budget. It is generally believed to provide most of the financing for the Soviet atomic effort, the guided missile development program, and the like. The meaning of such an increase, coming at this time, should not require further comment.

The likelihood is strong that the Soviet annual investment in the atomic program, guided missile development and other special weapon projects, now considerably exceeds America's own investments. Add the progress of Soviet strategic air. Add, further, the Soviet build-up which U.S. Chiefs of Staff have held will reach a stage of acute danger in 1954.

The sum of all the evidence is a future danger for which, at present, the United States is making no adequate preparation.

Host of New Problems

KOREA ought to be remembered in the history books as the place where Freedom took a stand—at the very start—against the aggressor and halted him. No one can argue with accuracy that the truce represents either surrender or appeasement.

We repelled the Red invasion of South Korea, and then we entered and held to the end a sizable part of North Korea. That was a defeat for communism and a victory for America and the United Nations, albeit a modest one in the military sense.

But neither this knowledge nor relief that the war is over can provide much solace for the difficult days which lie ahead. Except perhaps in India and certain portions of the British Labor Party, there are no optimists who imagine we shall now conclude with dispatch a Korean peace settlement and a broader agreement ending the Indo-China war and bringing fresh order to the whole Far East.

Indeed, it is conceivable that the freeing of a million Red Chinese soldiers from Korean combat may mean the use of at least some of them in new adventures either against Indo-China or the Nationalist stronghold of Formosa.

Short of that, all past evidence suggests the Communists will delay and delay and delay in settling the political issues that have to do with unification of Korea and establishment of broad Asiatic peace. They are conscious that in Asia a divided Korea can be what a divided Germany and Austria have been in Europe, a focus of tensions that compels the west constantly to stay on guard militarily, to expend vast sums for defense and impose heavy burdens on its peoples.

At the same time, the U.S. will be under great pressure both from Syngman Rhee, South Korean president, and the UN allies to obtain a united Korea and a general Asiatic settlement.

All the troubles with Rhee stem basically from his fear this goal never will be achieved. And the U.S. is committed to join him in walking out of a political conference after 90 days if it becomes convinced the Reds are not dealing in good faith and talks have become futile.

To keep this from happening, we may bend over backwards to find a basis for agreement with the Communists. The time to worry about appeasement is from now on.

Realistically, no deep observer of Red behavior believes any Korean settlement is possible which will unify the country and bring about withdrawal of all Red forces—unless by some miracle the Kremlin sincerely wants a world-wide agreement of which Korea could be a part. And of this there is still no sign.

The shooting and the destruction have ceased. But this precarious armistice opens the door to a whole host of new problems that are very likely greater than any the war itself has solved.

Happy in Seclusion

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—June Haver is "very happy" and wants to stay in seclusion—but still gets fan mail from all over the world, her mother reported today.

Mrs. Marie Ottestadt, back from visiting the ex-star at St. Mary's convent near Leavenworth, Kans., says the one-time song-and-dance star wants to "keep in the background."

But she still receives letters from admirers. "She's been privileged to read the letters and answer many of them," said June's mother.

"But, otherwise, at the convent she's accepted as another postulant and doesn't get more or less privileges." June isn't a silver blonde any more. Her hair has returned to its natural, darker color. It's still long and won't be cut until after she takes her final vows as a nun in two years.

Her personality "hasn't changed," her mother said. "She's content and well fed. I felt like a mother visiting her daughter at college. Contrary to what a lot of people think, they have fun at the school."

"They often have breakfast out of doors, and sit on the lawn. They all have their own chores such as changing flowers in the chapel or bringing meals to the community dining room. They have a wonderful community spirit."

June wears the uniform of a novitiate—a black skirt, blouse, cape and veil edged in white linen, her mother said.

Mrs. Ottestadt still elings to the possibility her daughter may change her mind and return home. In the closet of the house June shared with her mother and stepfather hang several expensive suits and evening gowns the ex-movie queen wore when she was one of the luminaries of the film colony.

"I gave a lot of her older things away to her fans and friends, but I kept some of her nicer and newer things, just in case," her mother said with a smile. "I kept some of her furnishings, too. If she comes back she'd have to have a place to live."

"Of course, after she takes her final vows I'll give everything away."

"My main concern is her health. She had to take time out from pictures many times. She's not very well. She went to the hospital for a check-up at my suggestion last week. They told me she only needs a little iron."

Red Bomb Stock Held Respectable

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice Admiral Leslie C. Stevens, former U.S. naval attaché at Moscow, said Wednesday there is every reason to believe the Russians by now have a "respectable stockpile" of atomic bombs and may soon have hydrogen bombs. Stevens also told a John Hopkins University conference the Soviet Air Force is estimated at 20,000 first-line aircraft, including more than 1,000 heavy bombers capable of carrying the atomic bomb.

Boycott of Puppet Shows Urged in U.K.

MANCHESTER (CP)—Some 15,000 British children have been urged to boycott traditional Punch and Judy puppet shows.

Reason for the ban, invoked by the Humane Education Society, is that most Punches clout their Jodies too vigorously and too often before impressionable kids.

"If a generation of youngsters grows up believing it all right to knock their wives about, who can blame them?" asked society secretary Arthur Thompson.

Isolated thunderstorms are a possibility overnight in southwestern B.C. and Saturday temperatures in that region will be a little lower than those of today. In other regions the present weather pattern should continue.

Standardized Wage Rate Aim of City Electricians

A standard wage rate of $2.25 an hour for all mechanical tradesmen employed in local shipyards has been suggested as an objective by Local 230 of the Electrical Workers' Union.

The electricians, who now enjoy a wage preferential over all other trades in the yards, proposed the standard rate to promote greater harmony among unions and to secure continuous year-round support for the Joint Shipyard Council.

Electricians propose standard holiday provisions and standard work conditions be set out.

MARKETS SUMMARY

Base Metals Off Sharply

TORONTO (CP) — Prices tended narrowly lower toward the close of today's slow-moving stock market session. Base metals fell sharply and western oils failed to follow up Thursday's one-point advance.

Golds were held from following the general easier trend by firmness in such key senior and junior producers as Malartic, Dome, Madson and Preston East Dome. Holding companies edged lower.

Western oils failed to follow up their small gains of Thursday as Husky, Federated Petroleum, Merrill and Pathfinder posted losses to 25 cents. Central Explorers and Royalty tended higher.

Uranium and New Brunswick base metals extended their losses in all but a handful of specialties. Lower were Nesbitt, Labine, Anacon, Sudbury, Contact and Brunswick, but Gunnar added 10 cents.

Base metals had their sharp drop in weeks. Leading the decline were Falconbridge, East Sullivan, Hudson Bay and Sheritt-Gordon.

No New Taxes, No Increases

MONTREAL (BUP) — Edward C. Eitel, president and managing director of the Financial Times predicts there will be no increase in taxes by the newly re-elected Liberal government.

Eitel, in a speech to the Kiwanis Club of Montreal, said the benefits which the government "may hand over during the next four years, or the assaults it may make on pocketbooks, on balance sheets and finances, will be moderate in nature."

"Unless a new situation somewhere around the world arises, into which Canada might be drawn, the taxes in the next budget certainly may be expected to remain unchanged, or they may be lowered again," he said.

Grain Hard Hit As N.Y. Slips

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined today with losses up to three points reaching into nearly all sections of the list.

Railroads were hardest hit. General Motors, under the influence of the disastrous fire that Thursday destroyed its automatic transmission plant, slipped lower.

Lower were Illinois Central, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Kennecott Copper and Du Pont.

Canadian issues were lower. Canadian Pacific was off 1/2 and International Nickel lost 1/4.

On the American stock exchange Canadian issues were unchanged.

Dryden Off

MONTREAL (CP) — Dryden Paper featured narrowly mixed dealings today on the stock market. Dryden fell four points to 45.

Senior metals, senior oils and beverages were slightly firmer while banks trended downward. McColl-Fontenac, Bell, Imperial Oil, Bathurst A, International Nickel, Seagrams and Canadian Javelin advanced.

Mines were mixed. Anacon, Preston and Dominion Asbestos rose while Quebec Nickel and Chimo fell.

Canada Southern Oil, up 15 cents at $9.15, held the spotlight in a sluggish western oil section.

Vancouver Quiet

Dealings were light on Vancouver stock exchange this forenoon and price changes were at a minimum. Charter advanced to 1.55 in an early transaction but at noon was 1.48-1.50, unchanged from Thursday's 2.10 bid.

American Standard advanced to 21 bid.

London Exchange Quietly Firmer

LONDON (Reuters) — The London Stock Exchange was quietly firmer today.

Interest largely centred on textiles. Elsewhere in the industrial group International Nickel registered a gain of 4. Among foreign bonds, Germans failed to record net gains.

British government stocks were firm. Among mines South African gold mine shares displayed firmness, diamonds were dull and copper steady.

Oil, where changed, were fractionally higher.

Closing prices: Babcock and Wilcox 64 3/4, Boots Pure Drug 20 1/2, Canadian Pacific 44 1/2, Central Mining 15 1/2, Consolidated Goldfields 46 1/2, Courtauld 44 1/2, Hudson's Bay Co. 9 1/2, Imperial Chemical 44 1/2, Imperial Tobacco 33 1/2, Metal Box 44 1/2, Mexican Eagle 22 1/2, Rand Mines 44 1/2, British 23 1/2, Anglo-Siam 21 1/2, British fundings 4 19/20-50 £101 7/8.

Bonds Unchanged

MONTREAL (CP) — Government of Canada and provincial issues were quiet and unchanged today on Montreal bond market. Convertibles on the corporate market were a little better with Canadian Breweries and Canada Oil Lands advancing.

BUSINESS CAPSULE

By E. McLEAN, Times Business Editor

Oil Explorers Turn Attention to B.C.

Spurred by last year's gas discoveries in the north-easterly part of B.C., attention of oil-explorers is swinging toward this province.

A report just issued shows there was nearly as much geophysical oil exploration in B.C. during this year's first half as there was in the whole of 1952. Total number of crew-months worked in B.C. Jan. 1 to June 30 was 50; in the whole of last year B.C. crew-months totaled 63.

The swing toward oil and gas exploration in B.C. is significant against the background of the declining amount of unexplored oil-land in Alberta.

For the first time since the Leduc discoveries in 1947, the number of geophysical exploration crew-months worked in Alberta during the first half of 1953 did not exceed the year before. Alberta's crew-months in 1952 totaled 1,680; total for January to June this year was 844.

Implication is that the time fast is coming when there'll be no more Alberta oil-land to explore and the trained, highly-skilled crews will be diverted elsewhere, perhaps to B.C.

BUSINESS WORLD NEWS POTPOURRI

Bank clearings here this week were $398,983 higher than last year. Cheques cleared during the week ended Thursday total $7,354,101 compared with $6,755,118 in the same week of 1952. . . B.C. department store sales in July showed the greatest gain of any province. National average increase over July, 1952, was 8.6 per cent. B.C.'s gain 12.9 per cent. . . Construction in B.C. during July was 12 per cent higher

CHICAGO

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat spurred on the Board of Trade today as the final session before results of the wheat marketing quota vote by farmers will be tabulated.

The buying in wheat came from mills, lifting hedges against an expanded four business. There also was some short covering and buying on the part of those who felt farmers would approve the quota and prices would respond by rising next week.

Wheat closed 1/4 higher, September $1.83 1/4, corn 3/4 higher, September $1.47 1/4, soybeans 1/4 higher, September $1.29 1/4, copra 1/4 higher, September $1.29 1/4.

Manitoba Wheat Harvest Opens Within Two Weeks

WINNIPEG (CP)—Cutting of wheat will be general in Manitoba within two weeks, in Saskatchewan by Sept. 1 and in Alberta by Sept. 10. The crop reports of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways for the week ending Aug. 13 indicate some rust damage in areas of southern Manitoba and eastern Saskatchewan. Damage as high as 30 per cent is reported in some durum fields. There were 60 Manitoba points reporting rust. The cutting estimate in the reports depends on good weather. Periodic showers combined with higher temperatures during the week to advance crops. Rye swathing is well advanced in some parts of southern Manitoba and Saskatchewan and the first car of new crop barley was loaded at Emerson Aug. 10. The moisture situation is favorable over most of the three provinces. Extreme southwest Manitoba and a few areas of southern Alberta could use more rain. An above average yield of rye is indicated for southern Manitoba and the first load of 1953 wheat came to Harriet Aug. 10. It indicated good yield and grade. Some further rain is required in parts of southern Saskatchewan and rust and sawfly damage is reported. Rye swathing is well advanced in some sections. Ideal weather in central Saskatchewan has rye swathing under way and barley within a week of being ready. Harvesting is expected to be general by early September and yields should be good. Northern Saskatchewan needs warm, dry weather.

TORY EATS HIS 'SHIRT'

Ontario Candidate Pays Off Novel Election Wager

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—George Hees ate his "shirt" Thursday night. The Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Toronto Broadview, who had said he would eat his shirt if Elizabeth Jansen wasn't elected in Waterloo North in Monday's election, did his best before a crowd of 2,000 and a battery of press photographers and television cameras to fulfil his promise. Mr. Hees' "laundry" was delivered to him on the city hall steps. He bit into it, then passed samples around to throngs of children who snapped them up. At that point Norman Schneider, the Liberal who won by more than 5,000 votes over Miss Jansen, rushed up with a bucket marked "soda bicarb." In it was a large piece of bacon. "I'll have it for breakfast," said Mr. Hees as he munched on the "shirt"—an iced cake baked in the form of a wrapped up laundry shirt and inscribed: "George Hees' shirt."

EXPENSIVE LAUNDRY—MONTREAL (CP)—St. Jeanle d'Arc Hospital here is finding out how expensive it can be to have laundry "done out." It cost about $1,000 a week at a commercial laundry while the hospital's present laundry was being replaced by a larger building. She was first commissioned here in 1945. Cmdr. George M. Waddis was named skipper of the 355-foot warship.

HMCS MICMAC IN SERVICE AS SUB-KILLER

HALIFAX (BUP)—HMCS Micmac, the first Tribal Class destroyer built in Canada, was re-commissioned today after being in mothballs since 1951. The Micmac was outfitted with new anti-submarine weapons and will join the navy's growing force of sub-killers. She was built during the war, and was at the time, the largest warship ever built in a Canadian shipyard.

Sweden's cost of living index dropped one point in June, 1953, the first decline since December, 1949.

Labor Minister Seeks to Settle Ont. Truck Strike

TORONTO (BUP)—Labor Minister Charles Daley took the initiative today to try to settle a month-long strike of western Ontario truck drivers and asked company and union representatives to meet him Monday.

Daley said he had received no request from either party to reopen negotiations.

The labor minister issued his call as the strike spread for the first time to the Niagara Peninsula. Five Niagara Falls and district trucking depots were tied up by picket lines and pickets bottled up 60 trucks at the huge customs yard at nearby Fort Erie.

Sweden's cost of living index dropped one point in June, 1953, the first decline since December, 1949.

SALMONACS EDGE SONS

Rock Regulars Given Holiday

Salmonacs 14, Native Sons 11
Accidents will happen, they say, but not if Red McMillan can help it.

The Shamrock coach, having seen his team clinch the Inter-city Lacrosse League championship this week, will play it close to the vest Saturday night when the Rocks travel to Nanaimo for an anti-climatic schedule-closer against the Native Sons.

With the Rocks and Sons slated to open their best-of-five semifinal series here Monday night, McMillan will take no chances on having his regulars injured in Saturday's game and will make full use of his reserves.

ANDREWS TO PLAY

The Shamrock production line of Whitey Severson, Larry Booth and Archie Browning will be rested as will forwards Jackie Northup and Arnie Ferguson and defenseman Bob Anderson. Bill Andrews will be in goal, giving Jim Hetherington a rest.

The Rocks have also announced that Tommy Druce, out for two weeks with a shoulder separation, will be back in action Monday night. Line-up will have McMillan, Bill Bamford, Bob Monaghan and Jack Thompson on defense in front of Andrews. One forward line will be made up of Rookie Al Gill, Harry Trivett, Billy Jobb and a second will have Duff McGahey, Sarge Sammartino and Norm Coates. Third line will be composed of Elmer Matthews, Jim Ranson and Art Green.

Green, Matthews and McMillan will be playing their third games, making them eligible for the playoffs.

LUMLEY NETS FIVE

Nanaimo's John Lumley scored five goals Thursday night, but it was in a losing cause as Nanaimo dropped a 14-1 decision to New Westminster Salmonacs on the mainland. The game was New Westminster's last of the season and their sixth win in 32 games. Spunk Oddy led the New Westminster scorers with four goals and Bob Raffle snipped three.

Tillicums Clinch Tie For 'B' Softball Title

Tillicums 9, Grand Spot 4

The victory gave Tillicums a game and a half lead over Joe Fosters, who meet Chinese Students tonight in their last scheduled game of the season.

Should Fosters win they will play Tillicums before the playoffs in the replay of a recent 4-1 tie. However, if Fosters lose, the replay will not be necessary.

Veteran John Oliver pitched the victory for Tillicums, giving up four hits, two of them being home runs by Dennis Beaulac and Price.

Standings follow:
Tillicums 19 5 .792
Joe Fosters 17 6 .737
Chinese Students 12 12 .500
Mary's Coffee Bar 10 15 .400
Grand Spot 3 22 .120

DETROIT—George Powell, 184½, Detroit, knocked out Ringo Harris, 185½, Detroit, 1.

WILL STYLE ATTACK AS FIGHT PROGRESSES

LaStarza Has Plans for Marciano

GREENWOOD LAKE (AP)—Usually the first question put to Roland LaStarza in his training camp here among the green hills is how he intends to fight Rocky Marciano, the thunder-dusted heavyweight champion, in their title bout Sept. 24 at the New York Polo grounds.

Specifically, the 26-year-old challenger who is not noted as a hitter, is asked if he plans to employ any different tactics from those he used when he lost a split decision to Rocky 3½ years ago, when both were just coming up.

Does he intend to play it cosy and try to win by a decision, or to turn tiger and go for a knockout?

"All I can say is that I'll make my fight as I go along,

ROLAND LASTARZA he won't beat me as I always have," says the collegiate-looking young man from the Bronx.

"I know I've been criticized for it, but that's the only way I know how to fight. I always take it fairly easy in the early stages until I see what I want to do, and then I come on. That's how I've won all my fights. I've found there's no use trying to plan exactly.

"For example, I planned to wait for Rex Layne to come in and then counterpunch his head off. I knew he was never in good shape, too. So what happens? He's in the best shape of his life and all he wants to do is counterpunch, himself.

"I won, but it was an unsatisfactory fight as far as I was concerned. I'll have no

ROCKY MARCIANO ... better fighter now

Lone Canadian Remaining in Women's Open

LONDON (CP)—Canada's case for a champion in the Canadian Women's Open golf tournament today rested with 19-year-old Marlene Stewart.

Only home-bred left from a big Canadian field that teed off in the week-long championship last Monday, the freckle-faced youngster from Fonthill, Ont., advanced to the semifinals Thursday with a 2 and 1 victory over defending champion Edean Anderson of Helena, Montana. The other semifinal spots are filled by Americans.

Marlene started the quarter-final round with 24-year-old Barbara Davies of Vancouver, the only other Canadian left in the running, but the West Coast girl was no match for 20-year-old Pat Lesser of Seattle, Wash., who sent her to the sidelines with a decisive 7 and 6 triumph.

MARLENE MEETS PAT

In the semifinals today it is Marlene against the Seattle brunette, while Grace Lenczyk of Newton, Conn., meets Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., in the other bracket.

Miss Lenczyk, who won the Open title in 1947 and 1948, defeated Pat Devany of Grosse Ile, Mich., 5 and 4, and Miss Romack outlasted Polly Martin of St. Clairsville, Ohio, to win on the 20th hole in their quarter-final matches.

Marlene, British Open and Canadian Close champion, has a tough match. The American girl, who celebrated her 20th birthday on Thursday, won the qualifying medal round with an even-par 77 on Monday and since then has coasted to easy victories.

She didn't allow Miss Davies to take a hole. She took the first, fourth, seventh and ninth to take a four-up lead at the turn and then ended the one-sided match at the 12th with three straight.

TOUGHER COURSE

It has been a little tougher for Marlene. She hit a one-over-par 78 in the qualifying round, knocked over June Baker 7 and 5 in the first round and then staged the fight of her career on Wednesday to win on the 19th over Pat O'Sullivan of Orange, Conn. Miss O'Sullivan was three up at the end of nine and it appeared to be curtains for Marlene, but she roared back to tie it up on the 18th and then win it on the extra hole.

That victory brought the crowd out to Thursday's quarter-final match against the defending champion, and more than 2,000 persons followed the youngster until she finished the match at the 17th.

Shirley Fry Wins Consolation Match

Only one local woman diver posted a victory in the Canadian Women's Open golf championship at Ottawa Thursday.

Shirley Fry advanced in the second flight consolation by outting Mrs. C. M. Elliott of Brantford, Ontario, 5 and 3.

Dorothy Herberson, also of Victoria, was eliminated 4 and 3 by Joanne Goulet of Regina in a first flight semi-final match.

Gasmen Lift City Title, Down Aces in Four Games

Locals to Meet Ladysmith For Island Softball Crown

Capital City 4, Butler's Aces 3

Capital City Servicemen won the right to represent this city in the Vancouver Island Senior A Men's softball finals Thursday night.

Foul Bay Near Island Boxla Title

Alex Macdonald's Foul Bay lacrosse club is within one victory of the Vancouver Island Senior B championship.

The defending champion Bays took their second consecutive victory Thursday night when they defeated a stubborn Nanaimo Jets squad 12-5 at Nanaimo.

Third game of the series is slated for Memorial Arena, Tuesday night at 8.30. It had previously been scheduled for Sunday at Stevenson Park.

Five times in the first half Foul Bay took one-goal leads only to see the hustling Jets come back to square it, the half ending 5-5.

However, Nanaimo wilted in the second half and were unable to score a goal in either of the third or fourth quarters. Foul Bay drilled seven goals past Al Shuker in the second half for their margin of victory.

Foul Bay's starry net-minder, Chummy Crabbe, blocked 25 out of 30 shots while Shuker stopped 21 of 36.

GREEN GETS FOUR

Top scorer for the Bays was former Shamrock Art Green, with four goals. Norm Kowalyk and George Rerek added two each while Reg White, with two goals, was top Nanaimo scorer.

Scorers follow:
Foul Bay—M. Kowalyk, 2; Art Green, 4; Jack Reid, 1; Jack Milburn, 1; John Bamford, 1; Tom Halbert, 1; George Rerek, 2. Total, 12.

Nanaimo—Reg White, 2; Gih Stevens, 1; Bill Seward, 1; Ed McMillan, 1. Total, 5.

ISLAND SERIES
The Island series is due to start in Central Park Sunday afternoon at 2.30, when the Gasmen meet Ladysmith. New Westerns in a best-of-three series to declare the Island representative in the B.C. Finals to be played in Vancouver starting Aug. 29.

Second game of the Gasmen-Ladysmith final will be played in the up-island city Aug. 22. If a third game is necessary it will take place at Central Park on Sunday, Aug. 23.

Short score follows:
Gas City Gasmen 200 000-0-3
Butler's Aces 000 000-3-1
Guns and Willing, Furmston and J. Turner.

PUTTING PREDOMINATES
Eisenhower sank a sweet putt on the 15th for a birdie three to be only one down and barely missed another birdie on the 16th when his putt rimmed the cup for a half. Both men birdied the 17th as Whaley sank a hair-raising 35-foot putt to keep his margin. The 18th was halved in regulation fours to send Whaley into the final.

McManama won the first two holes of the match but Peck, a former president of the Western International Baseball League, took the next five. He birdied the fourth after a tee shot that was paced off at 290 yards.

The short eighth was halved in spite of the fact that Peck's tee shot struck a woman, spectator and bounded into a bunker. He pitched out cleanly and sank the long putt. Peck was bunkered on the ninth and lost the hole, cutting his margin to 2-up at the turn.

McManama's tee shot landed in a small bush on the 10th and he went three down, only to win the 11th. Peck won the 12th, McManama took the 13th and Peck the 14th. Like Eisenhower, McManama refused to wilt under pressure and dunked a curling putt to win the 15th, cutting the deficit to two holes. Peck got the necessary halves on the 16th and 17th to end the match.

OAK BAY CRICKET
Oak Bay cricket club's lineup for its match with Alcos at Windsor Park Saturday afternoon at 2.30 follows: Bob Colquhoun, Jack Sparks, Ted Parkins, D. Dodge, A. Kay, Tony Bristowe, Bob Stewart, G. McVenny, J. Thornton, Ken Wright and E. Protons.

ON THE OUTDOOR FRONT

With ROY THORSEN

Just ramblin' about:

They tell us that Esquimalt police department's Jimmy Smart (Sergeant) has gone to extremes to try and lure a big salmon. Sgt. Tom Banister, city police, says that Jim read in a current issue of a geographic magazine that salmon have a love for music. "And the result is that Jim's going out in Esquimalt Harbor now fishing with a portable radio blaring in his boat in the hope it will lure salmon closer to his lures," said Banister.

Report that the commercial salmon, the humpback, ignores a sportsman's lure was exploded last Sunday by a Victoria party fishing in the waters off May Island, Campbell River. "We landed 10 humps and two cohoes in a few hours in the early morning using the Kam, lure and herring strip and dodger," said lawyer Jack Rutan. He was with Victoria's Bill Straith and Straith's nephew, Ron Stewart of Vancouver.

Between 10 and 12 Victoria scattergun shooters will invade Courtenay Sunday to take part in the upper island trap championships. . . . Duncan Elks Club will hold a trap shoot August 30 at their grounds off Cowichan Lake Road.

Capt. Henry Linkins, from California (U.S. Navy, retired), reported that he had some wonderful sport recently with cutthroat at the entrance of the river at the top of Sprout Lake. He lives at 1626 Rockland.

The 20-pound salmon Art Jukes, Eaton's electrical department, took this week at Cowichan Bay, was the first fish he'd ever landed. . . . Early morning fishing is still the best at the up-land bay (and that means around 4 a.m.). . . . Jack Harris tells us that George Fearey and his two sons had all the sport they wanted last week-end in both salt water and fresh water fishing in the Campbell River country. "They scored 18 salmon in three days off April Point and got their limits of trout for three days in Lower Campbell Lake," Harris said.

Our Wallace H. McMillan escaped serious injuries this week when the car in which he was a passenger was in a collision coming to Vancouver from the big Indian trap shoot at Harrison Lake.

Now here's something that will really excite trout fishermen. L. Chamber writes down from the Forbidden Plateau about monster trout. He quotes: "Kwal Lake Camp in the heart of the plateau is now open. . . . fish are biting and most Lake has 20-pound Kamloops being taken on 6-7 yellow flatfish." . . . Bumped into Joe Gibbons the other day and he was raving about fishing qualities of waters off Saanichton Spit. "Never saw so many fish in all my life—springs, coho and large grilse—and I did well," said the former B.C. Police and RCMP officer now at Kemano. He's holidaying here.

By the way, at the August 12 trap-sket championship shoot at the Victoria Gun Club, I failed to register one of the top shots at trap. He was Victoria's Johnny Wenger. John was among the quartette that powdered 96-100 in the city trap shooting title meet on the first day of the month. Bill Jones, Vancouver, blasted 25 straight to win the shootoff. Wenger and two others scored 24-25.

New run of larger coho is indicated in waters off Oak Bay, Duke Scott reports. Said that Gilling (Kay) Scott, his brother, boated two about 8½ pounds each this week. Still some springs being taken. . . . Third phase of the Cowichan Bay Club's $200 prize derby is on this week-end, Saturday and Sunday. . . . Annual coho derby in those waters is October 10, 11 and 12.

Saanichton Inlet reports: Hall's Boatmen, Goldstream—Bill Benford caught limit of five springs Wednesday, scored four Thursday; Jimmy Lee scored in three springs and one coho; Sid Upton took two springs, six coho, five springs, the largest 10 pounds; four springs and a coho by R. W. C. McAllister and party; J. G. Ash, three springs around nine pounds; Dick Hudson, five salmon; Lorne Hedin, 14-pound salmon; R. Kinsie, five coho and springs; Mrs. J. Gale, two springs; A. Campbell won button with 2½-pounder; M. Smith 1½ and one smaller.

Claude Creed reports that California visitors Mr. and Mrs. J. Duke scored two coho Wednesday afternoon. He also guided Dr. A. Key on a fishing trip out from Brentwood and the visitor boated a 15-pound spring and three smaller.

Harry Peard, Anchorage Boatmen, Brentwood, reported Dick Roe took one coho this week, Dorothy E. Smith the same; Bob Eastham a 15½-pound spring (not a member of the VSA); Frank Pomeroy, three springs, largest 1½ pounds; C. Elphinstone, Bill Pringle and George Wales, four eight-pound springs; Stu Evans, two coho; Tom Harper and A. Graham, four springs; George Rawlings and M. Smith, two springs, two coho; Harry Ferguson, four springs; and Rudy Kinkas, two coho, one spring.

Desmond Burke Takes Top Rifle Meet Award

SOUTH MARCH, Ont. (CP)—A 49-year-old lieutenant-colonel from Lansing, Ont., Thursday was named the winner of the Helmer Service Aggregate Challenge Trophy at the 85th annual Dominion of Canada Rifle Association prize meet.

Lt.-Col. Desmond Burke, rated Canada's No. 1 sharpshooter, posted the best combined score in three of the matches shot here this week—the Sherwood, Borden and Sir Arthur Currie matches. The latter match is held in conjunction with the Queen's Gold Medal.

CAN'T BET ON HORSES

DETROIT (AP)—An estranged wife yesterday won a court order prohibiting her husband from betting on horses.

Mrs. Carmel Santl, who has filed suit for divorce, accused her husband, Joe, a business man, of losing as much as $200 in daily visits to race tracks. The couple has three children.

TO COST NICKEL MORE

World Series Price Raised

It looks as if it's going to cost more to commute between the World Series ball parks this fall—but only because they've raised the subway fare in New York.

After seven nickel series and three dime classics the fare went up to 10 cents in 1948; this year's big show appears set to be a "token" affair. Tokens replaced cash when the fares were raised to 15 cents last month. Barring miracles, the participants will be New York Yankees, for the fifth straight year, and Brooklyn Dodgers, for the second time in a row.

Chicago White Sox and Milwaukee Braves continue to put up game, but most probably vain, fights from their second-place spots. The schedules and the standings are against both of them.

Chicago trails the Yankees by seven games and the two clubs play each other only five more times. Milwaukee is 7½ behind Brooklyn with just four games remaining against the Dodgers. For both contenders this means they have to rely on help from the rest of the league and no such help is in sight.

The Yankees whipped Washington 6-1 Thursday night after Chicago had turned back third-place Cleveland 7-3 in a 10-inning daylight battle. Brooklyn came from five runs behind for the second straight game to edge New York Giants 9-8 in 10 innings. Milwaukee was n't scheduled.

In other action Philadelphia Athletics nipped Boston Red Sox 1-0 and St. Louis Browns squeezed by Detroit Tigers 1-0 in 11 innings in the American League. Cincinnati Redlegs walloped Chicago Cubs 10-2 and Pittsburgh Pirates shaded Philadelphia Phillies 4-3 in the National.

Eddie Lopat continued his mastery over Washington in posting his 10th consecutive victory against the Senators. The six-hit triumph was his 11th in 12 games.

Close behind was defending champ Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Cal., who shot a 65 in a three-way tie as no less than 92 starters burned up the course with under-par shooting. An additional 14 hit par in the first session Thursday of the four-day grind.

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—Newcomer Dick Knight of Honolulu and veteran Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., led the $15,000 Fort Wayne Open golf tournament today with sizzling scores of 63. But the race for the $2,400 first prize was still wide open. Knight and Furgol tied the tournament record set at the Elks Country Club here in 1951 by hitting nine under par Thursday.

Close behind was defending champ Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Cal., who shot a 65 in a three-way tie as no less than 92 starters burned up the course with under-par shooting. An additional 14 hit par in the first session Thursday of the four-day grind.

He carded a score of 246 of a possible 285 to beat out Cpl. Gerald Ouellette of Windsor, Ont., and Sgt. J. W. MacNeil of Vancouver, tied for second place with 242s.

Two tie shoots are to be held today in addition to the MacDonald match from 300 to 600 yards, the London Merchants' from 1,000 yards, the Coates from 500 and 600 yards

American immigration officials had rejected repeated requests for consideration by the Canadian embassy in Washington and acting External Affairs Minister Brooke Claxton.

Irene's parents are dead and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Makohon of Flint, tried to adopt her. They were unable to get her a visa.

Canada Wants India At Korea Peace Talks

Pearson Sees India Major Factor in Any Negotiations Dealing With Peace in Asia

OTTAWA (BUP)—Canada favors India's claim for a seat on the political conference to settle the problems of Korea, External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson said today.

Pearson, president of the United Nations General Assembly, left today for New York to confer with other UN officials before the start of the Assembly meeting that will decide the terms of United Nations participation in the Korean peace conference.

He told a press conference that "we think India should be represented at the conference." "But," he added, "it is a matter for the United Nations to decide. India is a major factor in any negotiations dealing with the peace of Asia."

Pearson warned that the settlement of a peace for Korea "may be a tougher obstacle to get over than signing the armistice." He said he expected the United Nations would be able to agree on the time, place and general composition of the high-level political conference called for in the armistice terms within a short time.

"There is no reason why it should take more than a week, but that does not mean it won't take two or three weeks," he said.

Pearson was known to favor the creation of a small United Nations group to face the Communist bloc at the forthcoming conference. However, he told his press conference the final mechanism of the conference would be up to the full General Assembly membership.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

A young man of my acquaintance is about to use his single-blessedness as a down-payment on a life of connubial (he hopes) bliss, with a lifetime to pay.

And he has approached me with a supreme compliment, and an awe-inspiring request.

"I have seen you and Your Favorite Wife on many occasions," he said, "and I only hope Lover Girl and I will be as happy as you two are."

Well, I will have to admit My Favorite Wife and I get along pretty well together—not so well as ham and eggs, perhaps, but certainly better than strawberry shortcake and tomato ketchup.

But, this fact hardly prepared me for my young friend's request.

Asked he, "Tell me, what is the secret a husband should know, so he will always get along with his wife?"

Stiffing the impulse to tell him to ask Elizabeth Hurlock, who is paid to answer such questions, I will now attempt to reply.

And the only way I can answer is to recall a conversation (if you can call it such) between My Favorite Wife and me.

It had to do with something I hadn't done. Never mind what; let's just call it "it."

My Favorite Wife: I think the potatoes are done, let's eat now. Oh, that reminds me, have you done it yet?

Me: Done it? Done what?

MF: You know what. It.

Me: Oh. No, I haven't done it.

MF: But you should.

Me: Well, gosh, I thought when we talked it over before, you said I shouldn't do it.

MF: No, I didn't say you shouldn't do it. I said, if I were you, I didn't think I would do it.

Me: Well, isn't that the same thing?

MF: Gracious, no. I'm not you, so if I said, if I were you, I didn't think I would do it, that doesn't mean I didn't think YOU should do it.

Me: Oh. So I should do it?

MF: (Ignoring me). I only said I didn't THINK you should do it, I didn't tell you NOT to do it.

Me: Alright, then. I'm sorry. I'll do it first thing tomorrow morning.

MF: I don't want to MAKE you do anything, you know. If you don't WANT to do it, I don't care, really. I can get along alright.

ME: Oh, now, listen, don't be like that. I'd be glad to do ANYTHING, if you'll just make up your mind whether you WANT me to do it or DON'T want me to do it.

MF: That's the trouble with husbands, they always go rushing around and getting all logical. Most husbands forget the most important thing of all.

Me (Incautiously): What's that?

MF: What most husbands forget is, they are married to a woman.

Well, the only constructive suggestion I can make to my young friend who wishes to know the secret of a happy marriage is, never forget, bub, you are married to a woman.

From there on, you're on your own.

Cancellation of his driver's license, in addition to a fine of $10, was the penalty imposed by Magistrate A. I. Thomas upon Robert B. Saunders, 2020 Chaucer Street, for having violated license restrictions by driving without insurance. Saunders pleaded guilty through his mother.

Philosophical Motorist Does Duty, Is Fined

Motorist John H. Patterson, 3045 Shelbourne Street, went away from city court today penitent but philosophical.

Patterson was fined $10 after pleading guilty to a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian.

The charge was laid after his car brushed Yue Chow Jack at Government and Fisgard on the night of Aug. 9. Patterson explained he failed to see the Chinese.

What grieved Patterson was that he had to chase after the Chinese to keep him on the scene, and then personally called police to investigate. The Chinese was not injured.

Fruit Canners Asked to Help Free Food Stall

More volunteers are needed to take care of canning of fruit which will be picked Saturday for the 'free food stall,' Mrs. Barbara Green, sponsor, announced today.

"We have pickers all ready to go," Mrs. Green said. "People on holiday are giving their time generously, including a group of youngsters who will pick under adult supervision. But we need more canners. Plums just won't wait."

Mrs. Green revealed offers from apple orchard owners. The request for bird cages to take care of the budgie birds offered the stall has met with excellent response and only a few more are needed, Mrs. Green said.

CRUISER PLAYS VILLAIN

Island Defenders Plan Night Action

HMCS Ontario has been cast in the role of villain for a simulated drama of the sea to be enacted off the entrance to Juan de Fuca Strait next Thursday evening.

The Pacific command cruiser, en route home from England where she took part in the Spithead review, will act as an enemy raider attempting to sneak into the strait to bombard shore positions.

Charged with the job of finding and "destroying" Ontario will be a two-ship intercepting force, assisted by an air cover of Lancaster bombers from the RCAF station at Comox.

Defending ships will be HMC ships Beacon Hill and Antigonish, frigates of the Esquimalt training force. The action will commence at 9 p.m., and is scheduled to last until midnight. Aircraft flares will be dropped and star-shells fired.

Polio Patient Can Smile Again

On the road to recovery is this kiddie after days in the "iron lung." The respirator which saved him cost $2,000, "a cheap price for a life," officials say.

The Jubilee Hospital needs more equipment to assure treatment that will send other patients home smiling, too. (Times Photo by Strickland.)

POLIO DEFENSE LACKING

sure, permit nurses to administer treatment.

Without respirators or the power to drive them a polio victim's chances are greatly lessened. At the present time there isn't another respirator available for loan west of Toronto!

Jubilee has a battery of "lungs," seven in all, four of which are in use.

The hospital has arranged for use of respirators from the Navy, the Department of Veterans' Affairs, St. Joseph Hospital, Vancouver and Seattle Hospitals. They are among those standing ready.

They may not all be needed, but if they are the bottom of the barrel has been reached. The authorities think more should be purchased and on hand now.

Urgently needed is a special baby-sized tank respirator.

ONLY 20 PATIENTS

The isolation ward is equipped for only 20 patients. At times during the recent outbreak there have been 21 in the ward.

Although many patients have been discharged or moved to other parts of the hospital there are still two to four admissions daily and the ward could soon be filled again.

This is an old section of the hospital and the treatment facilities could be much improved to meet modern standards. More and better sterilizers are one item required.

In spite of the low reserves of equipment and ward-space, the war against polio is rolling ahead at Jubilee.

A special team of doctors and nurses has been formed and work with the attending physicians. Resident doctors are on hand throughout the 24-hour day.

When the present outbreak was in its infancy, it was realized that the several methods of treatment prescribed were creating difficulties for the nursing staff.

UNIFORM CARE

Under authority of the hospital medical staff body a committee was formed and evolved plans for uniform treatment.

Nursing staff of the isolation wing has been enlarged to the point where there is more than one nurse per patient. Each has had to acquire special skills and knowledge of the enemy they faced. Interns and nurses have been drilled in respirator care.

Some equipment inadequacies have been mastered here in Victoria. For instance, there was the problem of emergency power for the "lungs."

It was realized that in event of an electrical failure the respirator bellows would have to be operated by hand, a tedious and dangerous procedure. So an old two-cycle gas engine generator was hastily renovated. It was a relic of World War II ARP.

Once it was prepared for action a move was made to obtain a more modern, higher powered generator unit.

UNIT IN PLACE

Mr. Masters phoned Dave Carey, calling him from bed in the middle of the night. Manager of an industrial engine firm here, Mr. Carey answered the need promptly the next morning.

"You can have it," he told Mr. Masters. "I never slept another wink all night for thinking of those patients in the polio ward."

The new unit is in place today and can be started automatically with a push-button from the isolation ward. Each nurse has been drilled in the task of changing the respirator motors from the hospital system to the emergency system in seconds.

That is one man's response. Money and equipment for the anti-polio war has come from other sources as well.

The B.C. Polio Fund which represented here by the Vic Van Isle Kinsmen is a leader in the drive for funds. Last year 53 clubs raised $155,000 for B.C. needs.

GRANTS HELP

Grants have been received from the federal and provincial governments and local and municipal health officers have worked faithfully to build a dyke against polio long before it ever came.

But the dyke won't hold against a tidal wave, should it occur and the hospital can't operate a fund campaign on the home front when it is dug in on the front line.

So the Vic Van Isle Kinsmen have reactivated their earlier drive.

They will accept donations on behalf of the Jubilee polio wards at the following address: Vic Van Isle Kinsmen Polio Fund, c/o Ed Bergeron, chairman, Spencer House, 1951 Cook Street, Victoria.

Out of a job because he lost his bicycle is Michael Short, 13, of 1024-B Pandora Avenue.

Michael cannot carry on with his delivery job, since he lost the bike outside the Atlas Theatre Wednesday night. License plate on the machine is 3291, and there is a reward for its return.

WATCH THOSE WASP NESTS!

A warning against "crude methods" of battling wasp nests, which have resulted in serious stings and hospitalization for some Victorians, was issued today by W. H. Warren, city parks administrator.

"The number of wasp nests appears to be worse than usual this year," he said.

Swatting the nest, squirting water on it by means of a hose or throwing stones, can be very dangerous, Mr. Warren said.

Supporting the warning of Mr. Warren was the federal government entomologist's office at Victoria which recommends throwing a handful of DDT 5 per cent dust on the nest opening.

Forced Forest Closure Plan Considered

Serious consideration will be given to closing the Vancouver Forest District early next week if cloudiness and higher humidities do not materialize, Chief Forester C. D. Orchard said today.

He asked all those using the woods this week-end to exercise care to prevent forest fires.

The Forest Service has reported 711 fires throughout the province so far this year, with 16 to 18 new fires being reported daily.

"The situation could soon become very serious," Dr. Orchard said.

Meanwhile, 10 new fires, most of them small, and all now under control, have broken out in the last 24 hours.

There are now eight fires burning in the province.

Wicks to Hold Parley Despite Labor Boycott

Minister Goes Ahead With Plans For Meeting With Unions

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks said today the Aug. 28 roundtable labor conference will go ahead as scheduled regardless of the threatened boycott and cool attitude of some labor organizations.

Mr. Wicks called the Vancouver conference to enable a full discussion on the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act with a view to future revision.

The minister invited three representatives from each TLC council and each CCL council in the province, and delegates from the Native Brotherhood and International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, both independent groups.

A conference of management representatives will be held after the parley with labor.

But TLC and CCL spokesmen have said the conference is a waste of time because the government already has on file labor's wants. The Ash committee, for example, held sittings for nine months hearing labor delegations and recommended changes in the ICA Act.

The two unions, B.C.'s largest, also object to attending a conference to be attended by representatives of an expelled organization — the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union, which was kicked out of the CCL in 1948 on grounds it was Communist dominated.

Mr. Wicks, however, is undaunted by these objections and the conference goes ahead in the Hotel Vancouver Aug. 28.

Colorful Rites Naden Feature For Navy Day

The "crossing-the-line" ceremony will be performed at 2 p.m. on Navy Day, August 19, at HMCS Naden. This will be one of the highlights of the day-long program at both Naden and Dockyard.

The traditional rite will be enacted on the parade ground which will represent a ship's forecastle where "greenhorns" are initiated as "Loyal Subjects of Neptune Rex" whenever the ship crosses the Equator.

The ceremony will be part of the entertainment planned for the public when HMCS Naden and Dockyard hold open house.

COOLER TOMORROW

Thermometer Touches 80 For Second Successive Day

Yes, it's as hot as you think it is.

Even the official thermometer on breeze-kissed Gonzales worked its way into the high seventies again today, and downtown mercury registered well into the eighties.

There is relief in sight for those who don't enjoy hot weather. The weather office reports a mass of cooler air off the Oregon coast, is headed northward, and should lower temperatures here by about ten degrees Saturday. High tomorrow is forecast at 69, with mostly sunny skies.

There are indications of thunder storms developing over the Olympics and the Cascades, and there may be an electrical display this evening. No rain in the near future is foreseen.

Backstage 'Rain' Fails To Delay Totem Play

A backstage automatic sprinkler went into operation without apparent cause or warning Thursday, spraying water over the stage of the Totem Theatre just as members of the company were about to begin rehearsal.

The spray caused considerable agitation and several hours were required for mopping-up operations. The sudden downpour failed to dampen enthusiasm of the troupe, which tonight gives its premiere performance here of the comedy "Gigi."

The Thursday rehearsal was delayed four hours by the waterworks display. Cast members held their final, dress rehearsal this morning, while outside the theatre workmen were

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Should boys be allowed to ride bikes on the lower ledge of the breakwater on Dallas Road?

—M.M.

A.—The position has been stated officially for The Daily Times, thus: "Public access to this structure (Ordan Point breakwater) is not permitted, and persons using it do so at their own risk. The breakwater is, of course, because of its use, in a dangerous location, and it would be only too easy to be dragged from it by wave action during storms."

Q.—Will you please tell me where and why the names (1) John Bull and (2) Uncle Sam originated?—J.C.

A.—(1) Though he did not invent John Bull, Dr. John Arbuthnot (1667-1735) British physician and wit, fixed the popular conception of the character in five printed tracts, "The History of John Bull." (2) The origin of the name Uncle Sam is unknown, but it is believed to have arisen from the initials U.S., commonly seen on property of the government. It came into existence about 1812.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest.

Last Big Splash for PTA-Sponsored Swim Class

Last class of year under swimming instructor Archie McKinnon finished seven-week course of lessons at YMCA pool today. Class was sponsored by PTA of Saanichton and Keating, brought to 2,000 number of youngsters who learnt to swim under Mr. McKinnon this year, a new 12-month record for popular "Y" instructor who will get well-earned rest until new season begins next October. (Times Photo.)

SHOPPING GUIDE

Fruit, Vegetable Prices
Are Still Down, Mom!

By PENNY SAVER

Peach plums are coming into their own this week! The reddish-colored fruit are sweet and tender... and the price of them is practically unbelievable! Peach plums are selling for a mere 13 cents a pound, while the Santa Rosa plums remain at their price of 30 cents a pound. Of course, the Santas can't be beaten for flavor, but then, you can't beat peach plums for price! What's it going to be now, flavor or price? Golden egg plums are in their prime at present... they are the small yellow plums, just dripping with nectar. Price of them is 20 cents a pound.

Blackberries have dropped a whole 15 cents a half-dozen this week... now they are just 35 cents each! Boysen berries are up 2 cents and are 25 cents a half-dozen. The raspberries have settled at last week's price of 25 cents a half-dozen.

Those big black Ribier grapes have taken quite a slide, too. After last week's tag of 45 cents a pound, the present price of 30 cents a pound seems reasonable, indeed! Malaga grapes and the tiny green seedless grapes seem quite satisfied to stay at last week's 35 cents and 25 cents a pound, respectively.

Gravenstein apples are in town and selling at two pounds for 45 cents. Transparents are still 25 cents a pound. Peaches are four for 25 cents, apricots are 20 cents a pound, Bartlett pears are 25 cents a pound and cantaloupes are two for 45 cents... a slight drop from last week's price of 25 cents each.

String beans are 10 cents cheaper this week... price is now 20 cents a pound. Broad beans are three pounds for 25 cents and the yellow wax beans are 25 cents a pound. Potatoes are still 10 pounds for 25 cents, green peas are two pounds for 35 cents, vegetable marrow is 25 cents for three pounds and cabbage is 3 cents a pound. Tomatoes are 20 cents a pound, broccoli is 15 cents a pound and fresh gherkins are 20 cents a pound.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Help Nature Form Figure
By Doing Some Exercises

Q—"I am 34 inches in the bust, 28 1/2 in the waist and 39 in the hips. I am five feet five inches tall and 16 years old. Am I in proportion? If not, how can I remedy it and in what way?"

A—"There is too much difference between your bust and your hips. Your waist should be slimmed a little, too. This may be due to the fact that your bust is not yet fully developed. You did not give me your weight. Why not meet nature half way and take some hip and waist reducing exercises?"

Q—"I am 48 years old and am five feet eight inches tall. Until recently I weighed 139 pounds. Now I have gained, and much of the weight seems to be in my neck and my chin. Is there any exercise I can do to control this?"

A—"You were really some underweight when you weighed 139 pounds. You did not say how much you have gained. Your double chin will certainly slim down if you lose your extra weight. This exercise is also very effective. Drop your head backward. Keep your head in this position while you chew in an exaggerated way.

Q—"I am troubled with oily hair. I wash my hair with a shampoo every three days. Even then it is greasy by the third day. Please suggest some shampoo or other remedy to help me. I am a troubled 15-year-old."

A—"At your age the oil glands are extremely active. That is why so many teenagers have trouble with their skin. I think your trouble will disappear when you get a little older. In the meantime massage your scalp for good scalp health and get your head in some of the summer sun. Do not eat rich, greasy foods. I know it is a nuisance to have to wash your hair so often but it will not hurt it.

Q—"I have been shaving the hair on my legs for the past three years. Now it looks miserable. It is very thick and grows so fast I would practically have to shave it every day. Is there any way I can remove it permanently?"

A—"I do not believe that shaving makes the hair grow in thicker. It does make it stubbly because shaving leaves blunt ends. You might use a depilatory to remedy this. However the only way to remove hair permanently is by electrolysis.

You can remove odors from jars and bottles by following this suggestion: Pour a solution of water and dry mustard into the bottle and let stand for a few hours. Then rinse in hot water. A dilute chlorine bleaching solution will do the same trick.

AS WE LIVE

Woman, Deprived of Job
Seeks Activity for Morale

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When a woman has been accustomed to having outlets for her energies and contacts with people, it is sometimes hard on her morale to remain at home. That is the problem facing the wife who writes:

(Q)—"Eight months ago, I sold a store I owned and managed for four years because of the handicap to our social life inasmuch as the store was open for long hours. The work had given me prestige and confidence. Now I notice more and more I am losing this self-confidence. My husband, who is a successful business man, wants me to stay at home and take care of the house and our only child, a girl. Much as I want to do this, I feel that I must do something worthwhile which will make my husband feel proud and also to be in a position to be with people so I will be comfortable in their presence. Can you suggest something to do that will bolster my morale and still keep up the home?"

(A)—"Why not do volunteer work in your church and community? If your husband is a successful business man it is not necessary for you to work for money. Why not, therefore, volunteer your services to some of the church organizations, and to the hospitals or other civic groups?"

Your business experience and training should be great assets to you in such work. There is a great need for conscientious, efficient workers. Talk to the pastor of your church about this matter and he will tell you how to make contacts with the organizations you would enjoy working with.

Volunteer work in church or community organizations will give you contacts with people and will give you a new set of interests to replace the interest you had in your store. Even more important, it will give you prestige in your community.

I am sure you will feel that working for others is "worthwhile" work and that your husband will be proud of what you are doing. If you show enough interest and initiative, you will be asked to join different committees and later become their chairman. This should give you the confidence your period of inactivity has been tearing down.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Reception Follows Opening

Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Janowsky will entertain with a late-evening reception tonight, at their home, Pentrelew Place, following the Victoria opening of the Canadian premiere of "Gigi" by the Totem Theatre Company. Their guests will be members of the company, visiting Vancouverites and a number of Victoria first-nighters.

Italian Motif for Dinner Party

Mrs. Don McNeill was a hostess recently, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rimmer, 1776 Beach Drive, when she entertained at a spaghetti dinner and bridge in honor of Miss Margot King, who is to be married on Saturday. The table was set with an Italian motif, the centerpiece being a gay arrangement of colored gourds.

A beautiful hand-embroidered Chinese tablecloth was presented to the bride-elect by the assembled guests who were Mrs. Reg King and Mrs. Glenn Hope, mothers of the affianced couple, and Mrs. Marjorie Bosworth, Philadelphia; Mrs. William Cummins, Duncan; Mrs. John McGuire, Toronto; Mrs. C. W. Smith, Vancouver; Mrs. Gordon Nickells, Mrs. Robert Nickells, Mrs. Roger Kemple, Mrs. George Soutar, Mrs. Eric Dowell and the Misses Joan Hodge, Frances Leeming and Judy McGuire.

Showers for Jocelyn Provan

Friends of Miss Jocelyn Provan gathered at the home of Mrs. James Wood, 3943 Cumberland Road, last evening to honor her with a grocery shower. Co-hostess was Mrs. R. Weicker. Honor guest was presented with a corsage of pink carnations surrounded with sweet peas and her mother, Mrs. W. Provan, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. C. McGregor, received gifts of pottery. Guests were entertained during the evening by piano selections by Miss Theodora Gubbels and vocal solos by Mrs. Gordon Patterson. Gifts were presented in a basket decorated in pink and white.

Another shower for Miss Provan was given by her aunt, Mrs. J. Provan, and cousin, Mrs. R. McKean, at the home of the latter, 1352 Grant Street. Gifts were concealed in a decorated wishing well. ### Victoria Woman Plans 18-Month Trip

A trip that will take her over several oceans, into three continents and fabled islands of the Pacific, is in store for Mrs. A. D. Muskett, 1117 Chapman Street. Mrs. Muskett is a fairly seasoned world traveler, but this is her longest trip away from Victoria, for she plans to be absent about 18 months.

When she leaves Canada on Aug. 22, her ultimate goal will be a little town in high Natal, South Africa, called Botha's Hill, which is 2,500 feet above sea level and overlooks the famous Valley of a Thousand Hills.

While there she will be a guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. O. Bulkeley, for nine months. This will be her second visit to South Africa. On a former trip she saw the Victoria Nyanza Falls and sailed down the Nile.

Mrs. Muskett will embark later this month, going via the Panama Canal and visiting Trinidad and ports of South America. She will spend a few days at Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires, trans-shipping at the latter port to a Dutch ship which will take her to Cape Town, East London and Durban, South Africa.

Her return journey will be made via India and through the East Indies, with stops at Java and in the Philippine Islands. Mrs. Muskett starts the first lap of her journey tomorrow, when she leaves Victoria to spend a week with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Roff, 2658 W. 34th Street, Vancouver.

Toastmistress' Lakeside Dinner Revives Old West

A page from the storied "old west" was re-enacted Wednesday night at the ranch home of Mrs. Phyllis Williams, Glen Lake, when 39 members and guests of Victoria Toastmistress Club gathered to hold a "chuckwagon dinner." Guests were greeted on arrival by the president, Mrs. Georgia Parker, wearing buckskin and a Stetson hat.

A swim in the lake preceded dinner, which was served on the upper terrace and announced by clanging cowbells. The delicious western food was served in traditional style from the side of a covered wagon which was the handiwork of the committee: Mesdames Irene Warren, Helen Simpson, Vera Carter, Ivy McKinty and Miss Grace Mitchell.

Boating, horseback riding, horseshoe pitching and a round-up sing-song to the music of Mrs. Marie Pickell and her piano accompaniment provided a full evening of entertainment. Prizes for most authentic costumes went to Mrs. Rae Brown, Mrs. Audrey Thompson and Mrs. Williams, and other attractive outfits were photographed for the records. A gateway to the dining terrace was formed of two old-style wagon wheels and lucky winners who passed through were Miss Mitchell, Miss Egan and Mrs. Marjorie Gunn.

Italy May Get Stop-Gap Cabinet

ROME (UP)—Former Treasury Minister Giuseppe Pella met today with political leaders to determine his chances of forming a new government to tide the country over the summer.
Christian Democrat Pella who served in the 1947 cabinet of former Premier Alcide De Gasperi hoped to assemble a stop-gap government of "experts" that could win approval of the divided parliament and push through the belated 1953 budget.
The 51-year-old wartime bookkeeper for the anti-Fascist partisans was asked to try to form a government by President Luigi Einaudi, former president of the Bank of Italy who taught the would-be premier economics in college.
Pella, postwar financial expert who "saved the lira," was scheduled to meet with Einaudi again Saturday to say whether he formally accepts the task.

FLYING CAPITAL

CALGARY (CP)—There are more executive-type aircraft based here than at any other point in Canada, reported Chester Newhall of Montreal, general manager of an aircraft concern.
Pella, postwar financial expert who "saved the lira," was scheduled to meet with Einaudi again Saturday to say whether he formally accepts the task.

Adhesions Bother Some Persons More Than Others

"Some time ago I had an appendix operation," writes Mrs. O., "and twice afterwards I had adhesions. What causes them?" The writer of this letter is evidently, one of those unfortunate persons really troubled by adhesions. What apparently happened in her case was that the acute appendicitis either ruptured and spilled infection into the surrounding tissues, or was severe enough to irritate the tissues even without rupture. This can happen with other internal infections as well.

Adhesions are made up of tissue much like that of an ordinary scar on the skin. Under the microscope adhesions appear as slightly elastic fibres. This is called fibrous tissue and the body tends to respond to any infection or injury by forming it. This response is not related to the particular nature of the damage but is merely one of nature's attempts to heal injury.

Rare Gold Coin Presented to B.C. Archives

The Provincial Archives has been presented with a $10 gold piece minted in New Westminster by the Colonial government of B.C., by Dr. J. F. Hunter, former city alderman and M.L.A.

B.C.'s famous gold coins of 1862 have long been numismatic rarities. For many years the archives possessed only the $20 gold piece, and some years ago purchased a set of the silver trial-pieces ($20 and $10). Lacking was the treasured $10 gold piece.

Provincial archivist Willard Ireland said the gift is of particular interest, also, because of its historical associations, for the coin originally belonged to Dr. Hunter's grandfather, the Hon. John Robson, a pioneer of this province and a former premier.

Many years ago, when a study was made of this issue of gold coins, only nine specimens of the $20 gold piece and seven of the $10 gold pieces were located.

The provincial archives now becomes the only institution in Canada to have a set of the gold pieces as well as of the silver trial-pieces.

Dr. Hunter's grandfather had the coin pierced and wore it on his watch chain. From a collector's point of view this would be considered a mutilation, Dr. Ireland said.

Advertising Man To Visit Scotland

Victoria advertising man Harry G. Penman will set out Saturday on a trip to his native Scotland, which he hasn't visited for 34 years.

Mr. Penman intends "to wander through the highlands, the lochs and the heather."

He intends to fly there and back, spending a month in Scotland, a month in England and probably a week on the continent.

TLC Closes Ranks to Red Sympathizers

OTTAWA (CP)—Percy R. Bengough Thursday was re-elected president of the 580,000-member Trades and Labor Congress by acclamation.

The 70-year-old veteran labor leader moved into his 11th term as head of Canada's biggest labor party without opposition.

The congress closed its ranks today to defeat a move which would have thrown open the 580,000-member labor body to unionists with Communist leanings.

In a heated debate, delegate after delegate rose to oppose a proposal by Hamilton Local 105 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers that the TLC executive accept convention credentials of any elected delegate regardless of his political opinions.

Only outright supporter of the resolution was George North of the British Columbia United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, who urged the executive to throw out a segment of its constitution which banned Communists from TLC activities.

A. T. Alsbury of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council commended the TLC constitution committee, which had recommended non-concurrence in the resolution.

There's More to This Than Meets the Eye

STANFORD, Calif. (UP)—Stanford University scientists said Thursday they have perfected the world's most powerful microscope.

They said it is a combination of two complex machines which permits them to distinguish particles of only two one-hundredths of a trillionth of an inch within the nucleus of an atom.

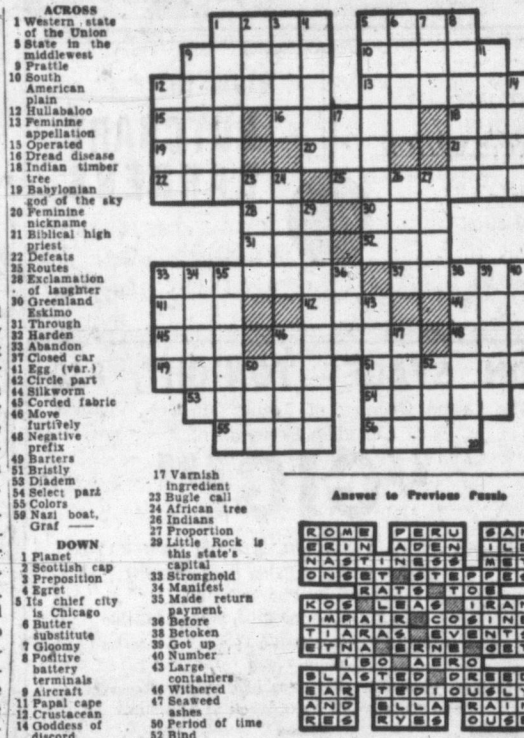

U.S. Says Import Bans Only If Home Production Threatened

OTTAWA (CP)—The United States government has made it clear in a note to Canada that import restrictions will be imposed on Canadian products only if they threaten American production.

The note, received at the Canadian embassy in Washington Wednesday and released here Thursday, was in reply to a Canadian protest against possible U.S. restrictions on imports of oats and ground fish fillets.

Officials of the department of external affairs described the American note as "reasonably conciliatory."

The Canadian note was the third of a series sent to the U.S. government in recent months protesting American import restrictions or proposed new curbs.

O'Dwyer's Ex-Wife Decides to Use Her Maiden Name

MADRID, Spain (UP)—The former wife of the former mayor of New York said today she will use her former name, Miss Sloan Simpson, until further notice.

Miss Simpson, who obtained a Mexican divorce from William O'Dwyer, the one-time mayor of New York and until last year U.S. ambassador to Mexico, is touring Spain with her mother.

"I'm using the name I was born with—Sloan Simpson," she said. "Now, since I'm in Spain it's 'Senorita Sloan Simpson.' When I return to New York, it will be Miss Sloan Simpson."

Senorita Simpson said she was glad she had obtained the divorce at Cuernavaca, Mexico, but that she had hoped it would be granted along with an annulment by the Roman Catholic church.

(A TO AA) "THE MOON IS BLUE" (Odeon)—To those who admire the aesthetic, from an acting viewpoint, the movie adaptation of F. Hugh ("Kiss and Tell") Herbert's comedy about he-in and she-in, "The Moon Is Blue" will rank high on the list of the best films of 1953.

Prime reason for the success of the movie version of the Broadway play is the high plane of acting by the principals. In less skillful hands "The Moon Is Blue" could quite easily have sunk to a level which could be described truthfully as 'obscene, unnecessary junk.'

This is not the case, fortunately, and through the artistry of pert Maggie McNamara, the life-like manner of William Holden, and the suave naturalness of David Niven, the clever, sophisticated lines of Author Herbert come out clear and clean, fairly bubbling with good humor, good sense, and—more to the point—good taste.

"The Moon Is Blue" is the story of a naive, young girl (McNamara) who is aggressively sure of her purity and is going to remain in that state. She makes this clear to Holden who picks her up on top of the Empire State Building and afterwards inveigles her to his bachelor apartment. Here she meets old roue Niven, the father of the girl, who is bound she is going to have Holden.

From here on in the play depends solely on Herbert's lines. The repartee is excellent, a gentle tickling in the ribs that keeps an amused smile on your lips throughout the entire show. As a matter of record, Maggie's guileless use of frowned-upon words before the disconcerted males is something to remember, theatrically speaking, for a long time. Peculiarly enough, beneath the frank and seemingly light-hearted dialogue is hidden enough truth and philosophy to make "The Moon Is Blue" of a surprisingly hefty calibre.

This, of course, is the film that has been condemned by the Roman Catholic Legion of Decency.

A short time ago no less a personage than New York's Francis Cardinal Spellman denounced the film as "an occasion of sin." Also the movie industry's self-censoring agency, the Production Code Administration, refused it a seal of approval.

To be fair to all sides, certain words that are spoken in the warmth and excitement of the living stage are not half so harsh on the ears as when the same words are spoken for the sound track of a movie. It is difficult to describe, but they don't seem quite so pronounced when spoken by a living human being before your eyes as when "canned" for the films.

Yet, on the other hand, I am a poor censor. I have been attending plays and films here, there and everywhere for a long time now and I am not easily shocked. All I ever ask is that the acting is good and the play is in good taste.

"The Moon Is Blue"—to my mind—is more than adequate in both these departments.

I wouldn't have missed it for anything.

Prospector Found Alive In North B.C.

QUESNEL, B.C. (CP)—Search parties found Thursday that one man died and another managed to stay alive while searching for minerals in the rugged bushland of northern British Columbia.

Separate search parties discovered the fate of the two men who set out on different expeditions to tap the wealth of the hazardous wilderness.

William Peterson of Quesnel, was found by RCMP in the northern Crescent Lake area, where he had existed on a diet of berries for two weeks. The prospector, who set out alone two weeks ago in the hope of staking a new claim, was weak but "in good condition" when found.

RCMP found the body of Russell (Red) McDonald, 26, of Vancouver on the shores of a northern lake where he drowned July 28. Several earlier dragging operations were unsuccessful. The miner vanished after ferrying two friends across the lake.

Cross-Country Car Ride Ends In Injuries

REVELSTOKE (CP) — The cross-Canada dash of two Ontario youths in a small English-made car came to grief near here Thursday night when the car plunged over a roadside cliff and both men were injured.

Hospital authorities said R. J. Thurgood of Brantford was "quite seriously" hurt when the car left the highway 66 miles north of here, only several hours away from their destination in Vancouver.

Peter Haddon of Toronto, the other occupant of the car, was said to be only slightly injured.

Both men were said to be in their early 20s.

Traveling from Ottawa, the pair had expected to arrive in Vancouver in time to complete the 3,145-mile journey in less than 100 hours.

The accident occurred on a treacherous piece of the winding mountain highway 450 miles east of Vancouver.

Hospital authorities declined to give details until next-of-kin had been advised.

The men were driving in "shifts" and it was not immediately known who was at the wheel when the car plunged from the highway.

Both are members of the Sports Car Club of Toronto and were making the run "just for the fun of it."

Leaving soon for Fiji, where she will assume a medical appointment to the British Colonial Service, is Dr. Luena Hatcher. Daughter of Civil Defense Director L. G. Hatcher and Mrs. Hatcher, Dr. Hatcher formerly practiced in Edmonton. She has been visiting with her parents since Tuesday evening.

Former Bridge Worker Dies Here at Age 87

Gilbert McKay, a former bridge carpenter and resident of Victoria for 60 years, died at his 329 Simcoe residence here Thursday. He was 87.

He is survived by his wife; one son, Stanley H.; two daughters, Mrs. Lette Williamson and Miss Agnes, all of Victoria.

Private funeral services will be held at McCall's chapel at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Mariners End Long Journey

SARNIA, Ont. (CP) — A 5,500-mile "sentimental journey" by water ended here for Roy G. Selman, a former native of nearby Sombra, absent from these parts for 52 years.

Selman and his wife arrived at the government dock Wednesday night aboard the 43-foot cabin cruiser "B for Bob" — constructed by Selman in B.C. — after a six-month journey from Vancouver to Sarnia by way of the Panama canal. The Selmans traveled from Los Angeles to Puerto Rico by freighter.

FBI Investigates Gasoline Pricing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The justice department said Thursday the federal bureau of investigation is being used "in some aspects" of an investigation the anti-trust division is making into retail gasoline prices in the United States. The department is seeking to find out if there was any collusion among gasoline companies in connection with a recent general advance in prices east of the Rocky Mountains.

Victory Parley Called by CCF

VANCOUVER (CP) — "Victory" conference of CCF MPs and MLAs will be held in Vancouver Saturday.

The party's seven victors in Monday's federal election and 14 MLAs-elect from the provincial voting have been invited to attend the executive meeting of the B.C. section.

Provincial Secretary Harold Thayer said the meeting will consider plans for the fall sessions of both Ottawa and Victoria houses.

National Flag Early Issue For New Parliament

OTTAWA (CP) — The controversial issue of a distinctive national flag will be one of the first to be placed before the new parliament when it convenes in the fall.

Bona Arseneault, newly re-elected Liberal Commons member for Bonaventure, Que., gave notice Thursday that he will renew a 1946 proposal for a compromise aimed at satisfying conflicting views.

The Quebec member, long a fighter for a Canadian flag, said he has been informed his resolution will be one of the first, if not the first, private members' motion placed on the Commons order paper.

He said he advocates: Reaffirming that the Union Jack is Canada's Queen's flag and the official symbol of this autonomous nation's partnership in the Commonwealth.

Maintaining the Red Ensign, Britain's merchant marine flag, as the ensign of Canada's merchant marine, with possibly the coat-of-arms being replaced by the maple leaf.

Giving Canada "a national flag which will not be an English-Canadian flag, or a French-Canadian flag, or a French-Canadian flag, but an all-Canadian national flag."

Mr. Arseneault's resolution calls for establishment of a parliamentary committee to study

TLC Re-Elects Bengough President for 11th Term

OTTAWA (CP) — The Trades and Labor Congress, meeting here in annual convention, put Vancouver's Percy Bengough back into the presidency for his 11th term.

His salary was boosted to $9,500 a year from $8,500 and his expense allowance was raised to $10 a day from $7.

Back with him was his old slate of lieutenants — with one exception. Birt Showler of Vancouver, 64-year-old, mild-mannered vice-president for British Columbia, went down to defeat by R. K. Gervin, 45-year-old one-time motorman and currently secretary of the Vancouver and district TLC.

Nearing the end of week-long deliberations, the 650-delegate convention turned to constitutional issues, knocking out several drafted resolutions, including one favoring election of officers by referendum vote.

Britain Skeptical LONDON (AP) — The Foreign Office said Thursday it has received no indication that Egypt plans to break off talks with Britain on the Suez base.

There have been flag proposals of various kinds before each parliamentary session for several years. The project made its longest advance in 1946, when a contest was held for the best design. But no award ever has been made.

None of the private members' resolutions in recent years has come to a House vote. The government has been cool to the idea up to now.

Before giving his flag notice to Commons officials, Mr. Arseneault visited Prime Minister St. Laurent, but said later that had nothing to do with the resolution. It was a courtesy call to congratulate the prime minister on his election victory.

Crash Kills Flight Cadet

BLYTH, Ont. (CP) — Flight Cadet Ronald Bryan Falls of Ottawa was killed Thursday when the RCAF Harvard training plane he was piloting crashed in a field near this village, 25 miles northwest of Stratford.

His plan, which he said "should win the almost universal support of all true Canadians of whatever racial extraction or language."

None of the private members' resolutions in recent years has come to a House vote. The government has been cool to the idea up to now.

Red Treatment Of Canadian PWs Defended

BRITANNIA CAMP, Korea (AP) — A Canadian medical officer examining returned Commonwealth prisoners asserted Thursday he had discovered no evidence of Communist treatment of war prisoners which was detrimental to their health.

Col. J. McCannell, of Victoria, reaffirmed an earlier opinion that Commonwealth prisoners had been treated "with reasonable care and given decent medical attention."

About 300 Commonwealth prisoners have been processed at Britannia Camp.

"The last few days the men have been a little thinner," McCannell conceded, "but they are healthy. A few broken bones will have to be reset, but then the Communists did not have X-ray equipment."

Allied Rift Seen

U.S. Wants Russia
At Korea Parley

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Britain and some other Western Allies were reported today to go on the floor of the UN General Assembly Monday with a demand that Russia and India be included in the forthcoming Korean political conference.

Informed sources said the split between the United States and Britain over the composition of the Korean parley is much more serious than previously indicated.

The British are understood to feel even more strongly about the question of Russian participation than about the possibility of India being given a seat.

The U.S. has indicated that the UN side of the conference should be restricted to the 16 countries which fought under the UN banner in Korea. (For Canadian view, see page 11.)

NON-FIGHTING NATIONS

NEW YORK (UP)—United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld indicated today that he favors including in the Far East peace conference some nations that did not have armed forces in the Korean fighting.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Soviet UN delegate Andrei Vishinsky confers with western diplomats today for the first time since the shooting stopped in Korea.

British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd and Sir Gladwyn Jebb, Britain's permanent delegate to the United Nations, scheduled a meeting with the Russian spokesman.

West Berlin Riot Squads Alert

BERLIN (UP)—East German Communist leaders were reported today to be organizing a mass attack by Red sympathizers on West Berlin centres distributing "Eisenhower food parcels" to hungry Germans from the Soviet occupied zone.

West Berlin city officials ordered riot squads on an alert and hauled out powerful water cannon and other equipment to deal with the expected attempt to smash the distribution centres and steal their records.

The Reds were said to have decided upon this step after western authorities announced an 11-day extension of American food distribution program which has handed out 17,500,000 pounds of food.

Third Canuck Turns Up From the 'Dead'

Compiled from AP and UP
Dispatches

PANMUNJOM, Korea — Another group of Allied prisoners, including Pte. Thomas E. Rothwell of Dundas, Ont., came back to freedom today.

The lone Canadian was classified as "sick or wounded." He had been a prisoner since October of 1952. The Royal Canadian Regiment had listed him missing in action and his release surprised army men here.

Before "Operation Big Switch" started 10 days ago, the Reds said they held 14 Canadian prisoners. Rothwell, 27, was the third to be released and the second "missing" Canuck to turn up alive.

Cpl. Joseph Pelletier, of Chatham, Ont., freed on the first night of the exchange, also had been among 27 men the army listed as missing in action. Only Gnr. Orvil Jenkins of Hamilton and Toronto, freed last Saturday, was on the army's list of 17 Canadians reported prisoners of war.

Ticking off the long hours in the iron lung is the watch of this navy veteran of Korea. The shining new respirator is an example of the teamwork marking the battle against polio at Royal Jubilee Hospital. Navy also lent doctors and nurses to the city isolation centre. But hospital needs more of these modern respirators to be prepared for a severe wave, should it come. Vic Van Isle Kinsmen lead fund drive. (Photo by Strickland.)

CITY UNPREPARED FOR POLIO CRISIS

Urgent Need for New Equipment
Revives Campaign for Funds

By PETE LOUDON

If the current outbreak of poliomyelitis in this city and on Vancouver Island should show a major increase the only isolation and treatment centre, located at Royal Jubilee Hospital, would prove hopelessly inadequate.

Hospital authorities made this admission today, prefacing a direct appeal to the people of Victoria and district for help.

"We need more isolation space, and more equipment," administrator George Masters said today.

He said much of the hospital's apparatus, including at least one iron lung, is obsolete. He added that new and safer types of respirators are needed.

Hospital and medical authorities want least of all to create panic but they pointed out that polio hits hardest in a community where it has been unknown in the past. There is no chance for a population to build an immunity to the disease in such an area. Victoria is one of these. This is its first large-scale polio experience.

"We don't say it will happen here, but in Vancouver and some other centres a repeating rhythm has been noted.

"The first wave passes and people relax. But before the 10 or 12-day incubation period is passed a second wave of double intensity may occur. This is often followed by a third wave which is the worst threat."

That is their considered opinion. That is why Jubilee wants to stock up equipment, provide more isolation space.

NO OVERLOAD

Facilities at present are not overloaded although there are 12 patients in isolation today. Most of them are people in whom the dread virus has been located but who have not suffered the more serious complications. Most will return to their homes without experiencing more discomfort than might be expected from fatigue.

But if many of the present cases should turn acute or a rush of acute cases should arrive at the hospital a shortage of respirators could occur.

Acute phases of polio attack the muscles, among other things. When a person cannot will his muscular system to inflate and lower his chest he must be placed in a respirator, better known as an iron lung.

This is a compressed air chamber into which the body is placed with the head protruding through an air-tight collar. The inside pressure is raised and decreased to the extent that it operates the lungs of the patient without muscular support. Meanwhile special openings which will allow entry of an arm but not release of air pressure.

ISLAND POLIO TOTAL 42

Greater Victoria's toll of polio cases rose to 35 today with admission to Royal Jubilee Hospital isolation of a four-and-a-half-year-old Saanich boy and a 17-year-old Victoria youth.

A 17-year-old Victoria girl reported Thursday as a suspect was found to have a case of flu. She has been discharged.

Seven cases of polio have been reported in the central Vancouver Island Health Centre at Nanaimo since May 7, according to figures released Thursday.

GETTING FOND OF HIM

Chief Now Sure Slimy Monster Is Alligator

NEW HAMBURG, Ont. (BUP)—Police Chief George Thomas admitted today that the people of New Hamburg are getting ruder fonder of their "slimy three-toed monster," which he has identified as an alligator.

The chief said that after identifying the creature he checked in the district and learned that one family had brought back a baby alligator from a vacation in Florida four years ago. It escaped a few months later and, apparently, found friends.

"The folks around here are getting to like the old fellow now," he said. "No one is too eager to shoot him."

Thomas had been gunning for the monster ever since it was first reported early this summer. But he admitted it had made his work easier in some respects.

"Haven't had a drowning in the river this summer," he said. "Nobody dares go swimming."

CPR Earnings Down; Lumber Rates Raised

Canadian Pacific earnings are falling so far behind expectations that the company's maintenance-work program will have to be curtailed.

The announcement, made at Montreal by CPR Vice-President N. R. Crump, came almost simultaneously with a Board of Transport Commission decision confirming a $1,000,000 per year increase in freight rates on West Coast lumber shipped to Toronto, Montreal and other eastern Canadian markets.

The higher rates on lumber moving from B.C. to Eastern Canada were announced May 1 by the railways but were not charged pending decision on an appeal by B.C. Lumber Manufacturers' Association and other B.C. and Alberta trade associations.

Transport Board's decision today authorizes the railways to charge the May 1 tariff, thus boosting freight rate on lumber from Vancouver to Toronto by 14 cents per 100 pounds. This raises the Canadian rate to the same level as charged by American railways on lumber from Seattle destined for Toronto.

Whaley Victor In Seniors For 8th Time

Ralph Whaley of Seattle today won his eighth Seniors Northwest Golf Association championship.

Whaley defeated defending champion Roger Peck of Tacoma, 4 and 3, in a scheduled 18-hole final at Victoria Golf Club that was tinged with controversy.

A fourth-hole controversy started when Whaley hit a shot to a portion of the course which previously was out of bounds.

However, the area has recently been filled in and club professional Phil Taylor ruled that Whaley's shot was in bounds. Under the previous ruling, the shot would have cost Whaley the hole, but Taylor's ruling enabled him to get a par four and halve the hole.

Civil War Threatens Morocco

RABAT, French Morocco (UP)—Civil war threatened to explode today as the pro-French pasha of Marrakech and 350 tribal chiefs prepared to depose the sultan of Morocco.

Pasha Thami El Mezzouari El Glaoui summoned 350 other pashas and caids—local native officials—and 2,000 prominent Moroccans to Marrakech palace where he was expected to proclaim a new ruler.

The choice to succeed to the 26-year-old reign of the sultan was Moulay Mohammed Ben Arafa, his first cousin.

According to sources close to El Glaoui, he and the top caids reached their decision Thursday night to depose the sultan, Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef.

French troops still guarded the sultan's palace at Rabat this morning.

$20 Million CNR Hotel for Montreal

MONTREAL (CP)—Canadian National Railways today announced plans for building a 1,000-room hotel in Montreal.

The CNR said its board of directors will include a figure in its next budget to cover initial work on the proposed $20,000,000 building. The railway's financial program has to be approved by the sessional parliamentary committee on railways at Ottawa.

The hotel will be 20 stories high.

1 Death as Hurricane Rips Towards N.Y.

NEW YORK (UP)—A howling 100-mile-an-hour tropical hurricane ripped across eastern Virginia today and headed toward the heavily-populated coast of Delaware, New Jersey and New York.

One man was killed when a huge wave washed him from a fishing pier at Wrightsville Beach, N.C.

Storm warnings were hoisted north to Cape May, Mass., and Coast Guard stations went on 24-hour alert along the Long Island coast line where thousands of vacationers occupy cottages on the low dunes of sand-spit islands.

Police warned New York harbor shipping to batten down for a big blow expected this afternoon.

Waves "as tall as buildings" flung debris upon the beaches from Morehead City to Virginia Beach. Part of the beach front at Virginia Beach was washed away.

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—This great U.S. island base dug in tonight for one of the wildest typhoons ever recorded in the Pacific, only a few hours away.

The army ordered condition 1 alert at 10 p.m. with the storm only about 12 hours away. The typhoon's winds were howling up to 184 miles per hour.

The forward edge of the howling storm, one of the wildest ever recorded in this part of the world, was about 200 miles southwest of this island and was expected to hit Saturday morning.

U.S. Air Force crews reported a barometric pressure reading of only 880 millibars, or just over 26 inches of mercury, believed to be "very close to an all-time low reading."

Times' $25 Reward Goes A-Begging

A $25 reward offered by the Times for information about a supposed lunch sinking off a Cupper Point in the early hours of Wednesday has so far failed to produce any result.

The reward was offered Thursday after a check on all available sources had failed to confirm a report that three people were blown out of a boat in an explosion and rescued by a man in a rowboat.

Up to press time today no one had come forward with any information about the supposed mishap. Until someone does the Times is regarding the report as an attempted hoax, the reason for which cannot be explained.

Dead Still Uncounted As 'Quakes Continue

ATHENS, Greece (BUP)—Eleven new earthquakes have hit the islands off the coast of Greece where the death toll is unofficially estimated at nearly 1,000 persons. One Temblor crushed a hospital on Zante, burying uncounted numbers of injured persons.

PATRAI, Greece (AP)—Modern Greece's worst disaster continued today to give up its dead and injured in uncounted numbers as fresh earthquakes brought new landslides, fire and misery to three small Ionian Islands.

Air-sea rescue units and supplies from many countries converged on the devastated islands of Zakynthos, Kefallinia and Ithaca. There still were no definite figures on casualties.

The Greek government said the death toll may reach 1,000 but an American observer who flew over the stricken areas said Thursday that all casualty figures "appear to underestimate the situation."

Rescue workers counted more than 400 dead in only two communities. Hundreds of persons were injured and almost all the 120,000 population were homeless, many without food or water.

Survivors subsisted on green and roots from their ruined garden plots. Islanders and thousands of rescue workers spent another night of terror as 11 more earthquake shocks rocked the Ionian Sea area.

American and British sailors are working non-stop alongside Greek troops and rescue squads to bring food, water and medical supplies to the islands.

2,000 TREATED

Most of the 2,000 or more injured were being treated in make-shift tent hospitals and in the open. Many others were brought to this mainland port, the nearest large Greek city.

Fires still raged through towns and villages on the islands, 50 miles off the west coast of Greece. Smoke and dust from huge landslides floated above their rocky hills.

Ships, planes and emergency supplies of food and medicine flooded in to the disaster scene from at least seven countries.

The Canadian Red Cross announced that an emergency supply of 250 cases of clothing stored in Geneva, Switzerland, was en route to the islands.

The U.S. navy organized a relief armada of ships and planes. U.S. transports carried a reinforced battalion of marines to aid in the rescue work, equipment for distilling water, and large stores of food and medicine.

U.S. headquarters in Europe gave the Greek quakes "overriding priorities over all other U.S. operations in Europe." All U.S. military exercises on the continent were canceled.

Three British naval vessels were on hand. Other British warships hastily took on supplies for the disaster area.

A steady stream of refugees poured into Argostolion, including walking injured and litter cases. Some of them were practically crawling.

"The people are pouring in and there is no place for them to sleep, and nothing for them to eat," the U.S. official said. "Most of all we need water."

SACRED MPs Will Meet

EDMONTON (CP)—Successful Social Credit candidates in Monday's federal election—11 from Alberta and possibly four from British Columbia—will meet here next month for conferences before proceeding to Ottawa for the mid-November session of Parliament.

Informal sources said this effort was aimed at keeping the current general strike from petering out into a series of scattered, ineffective and easily-controlled walkouts, as the government of Premier Joseph Laniel earnestly hopes will happen.

FREIGHT RATE DISPARITY

Victoria Manufacturers Claim Rates Hitting Wage Pattern

Today's freight-rate article by Victoria Times Business Editor E. McLean pinpoints the deleterious effect on local wage standards.

Loss of freight rate parity with Vancouver, which followed the Board of Transport's mountain differential elimination order July 1, 1949, shook the underpinnings of the trade-union wage structure in Victoria.

Mechanics and artisans here long sought pay rates equal to their opposite numbers in Vancouver. In many classifications this equalization exists today.

But it may not continue. Most large employers of skilled labor sell only a small portion of their output locally. The bulk is sold elsewhere, in competition with the production of Vancouver factories.

The Victoria manufacturer, since July 1, 1949, when freight rate parity was removed, is behind the eight-ball. His raw material costs more, if imported, because of the new freight rates. And most of it is imported.

His freight rate cost to markets in B.C. on the prairies and in the east is higher than that of his Vancouver competitor.

But his wage bill, in most cases, still is the same. Can Vancouver wage rates continue to be paid here in the face of unequal freight rates? Most business men answer, "No."

They'd just as soon maintain equal wage rates and avoid annual arguments with their workmen. But they can't do the impossible. To sell their goods in the markets east of Hope they must compete price-wise with Vancouver. If freight costs, both incoming and outgoing, are higher than Vancouver's then there is less "melon" left to be split between raw material cost, cost of production (chiefly wages) and the man who pays the shot and creates the jobs—the owner of the plant.

As thoughtful unionists know, you can argue about but you can't overcome the facts of economics.

Hourly rate of pay of Victoria's skilled workmen is inextricably bound up in Chamber of Commerce's current attempt to regain the freight-rate parity with Vancouver that was Victoria's for 42 years.

This, then, is the trade union's fight as much as it is the Chamber of Commerce, the manufacturer's or the business man's.

(Fourth article in this Victoria Times series will discuss effects of unequal freight-rates on prices of consumer goods here.)

France Sides With Morocco Sultan

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—France today sided with Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef, who has been indulgently inclined toward Morocco's independence-seeking Nationalists, and moved swiftly to discourage a brewing civil war for his throne.

Faced with a rival armed camp led by his powerful Berber opponent, Pasha Thami El Glaoui at Marrakech, the sultan was reported by the French Foreign Office to have bowed to French demands.

30 New Manitoba Polio Cases, 1 Death

WINNIPEG (CP)—One death from poliomyelitis and 30 new cases were reported today by Manitoba health officials. The death toll this year now stands at 13; the case total of 767, with 448 paralyzed. Last year for the week ending Aug. 16, there were only 179 cases but the incidence started much later. The 1952 total was 841.

Manitoba Rifleman Wins Shield

SOUTH MARCH, Ont. (CP)—Capt. D. O. White, Pine Falls, Man., of the Winnipeg Light Infantry Rifle Association, today won the Macdonald Challenge Shield at the 85th annual Dominion of Canada Rifle Association prize shoot.

Nine other marksmen tied for second place with 1225. They included Sgt. G. T. Hanman, Regina; Capt. W. Heisig, Edmonton; Maj. A. M. T. Spittal, Victoria; and Sgt. J. M. MacNeil, Vancouver.

Marketing Aid for Farmers Likely

EDMONTON (CP)—Trade Minister Howe says the federal government is considering the financial position of farmers during congested marketing periods and believes "the steps to be taken will meet the situation."

The Alberta Federation of Agriculture released today a reply from the minister to an AFA request that the federal government provide short-term loans or other means to aid farmers in meeting operating expenses. It was claimed that farmers were not able to deliver sufficient grain because of congested marketing facilities.

Third Canuck Turns Up From the 'Dead'

Compiled from AP and UP Dispatches

PANMUNJOM, Korea — Another group of Allied prisoners, including Pte. Thomas E. Rothwell of Dundas, Ont., came back to freedom today.

The lone Canadian was classified as "sick or wounded." He had been a prisoner since October of 1952. The Royal Canadian Regiment had listed him missing in action and his release surprised army men here.

Before "Operation Big Switch" started 10 days ago, the Reds said they held 14 Canadian prisoners. Rothwell, 27, was the third to be released and the second "missing" Canuck to turn up alive.

Cpl. Joseph Pelletier, of Chatham, Ont., freed on the first night of the exchange, also had been among 27 men the army listed as missing in action. Only Gnr. Orvil Jenkins of Hamilton and Toronto, freed last Saturday, was on the army's list of 17 Canadians reported prisoners of war.

Allied Rift Seen

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Britain and some other Western Allies were reported ready today to go on the floor of the UN General Assembly Monday with a demand that Russia and India be included in the forthcoming Korean political conference.

Informed sources said the split between the United States and Britain over the composition of the Korean parley is much more serious than previously indicated.

The British are understood to feel even more strongly about the question of Russian participation than about the possibility of India being given a seat.

The U.S. has indicated that the UN side of the conference should be restricted to the 16 countries which fought under the UN banner in Korea. (For Canadian view, see page 11.)

No Facts Yet Offered on Launch Story

A $25 reward offered by the Times for information about a supposed launch sinking off Clover Point in the early hours of Wednesday has so far failed to produce any result.

The reward was offered Thursday after a check on all available sources had failed to confirm a report that three people were blown out of a boat in an explosion and rescued by a man in a rowboat.

Up to press time today no one had come forward with any information about the supposed mishap. Until someone does the Times is regarding the report as an attempted hoax, the reason for which cannot be explained.

Whaley Victor In Seniors For 8th Time

Ralph Whaley of Seattle today won his eighth Seniors Northwest Golf Association championship.

Whaley defeated defending champion Roger Peck of Tacoma, 4 and 3, in a scheduled 18-hole final at Victoria Golf Club.

Urgent Need for New Equipment Revives Campaign for Funds

By PETE LOUDON

If the current outbreak of poliomyelitis in this city and on Vancouver Island should show a major increase the only isolation and treatment centre, located at Royal Jubilee Hospital, would prove hopelessly inadequate.

Hospital authorities made this admission today, prefacing a direct appeal to the people of Victoria and district for help.

"We need more isolation space, and more equipment," administrator George Masters said today.

He said much of the hospital's apparatus, including at least one iron lung, is obsolete. He added that new and safer types of respirators are needed.

Hospital and medical authorities want least of all to create panic but they pointed out that polio hits hardest in a community where it has been unknown in the past. There is no chance for a population to build an immunity to the disease in such an area. Victoria is one of these. This is its first large-scale polio experience.

"We don't say it will happen here, but in Vancouver and some other centres a repeating rhythm has been noted."

"The first wave passes and people relax. But before the 10 or 12-day incubation period is passed a second wave of double intensity may occur. This is

Reds Strive to Keep French Strikes Alive

PARIS (UP)—The Communists tried to intensify the waning French strike enthusiasm today as thousands of workers ignored walkout orders, others straggled back to work, and the government increased its emergency measures to restore order.

Speculators, black marketers and opportunists smuggled watches, nylon, gold and other precious commodities across uncontrolled borders in an effort to reap quick fortunes in the disorder which the strike of 4,000,000 union workers has brought.

Trip-Hammer Blows Pound Greek Islands

ATHENS, Greece (BUP)—Eleven new earthquakes have hit the islands off the coast of Greece where the death toll is unofficially estimated at nearly 1,000 persons. One Temblor crushed a hospital on Zante, burying uncounted numbers of injured persons.

Patrol Greece (AP)—Modern Greece's worst disaster continued today to give up its dead and injured in uncounted numbers as fresh earthquakes brought new landslides, fire and misery to three small Ionian Islands.

Air-sea rescue units and supplies from many countries converged on the devastated islands of Zakynthos, Kefallinia and Ithaca. There still were no definite figures on casualties.

The Greek government said the death toll may reach 1,000 but an American observer who flew over the stricken areas said Thursday that all casualty figures "appear to underestimate the situation."

Rescue workers counted more than 400 dead in only two communities.

Hundreds of persons were injured and almost all the 120,000 population were homeless, many without food or water.

Survivors subsisted on greens and roots from their ruined garden plots.

Islanders and thousands of rescue workers spent another night of terror as 11 more earthquake shocks rocked the Ionian Sea area.

American and British sailors are working non-stop alongside Greek troops and rescue squads to bring food, water and medical supplies to the islands.

100-MPH Wind Sweeps Across Eastern States

NEW YORK (UP)—A howling 100-mile-an-hour tropical hurricane ripped across eastern Virginia today and headed toward the heavily-populated coast of Delaware, New Jersey and New York.

One man was killed when a huge wave washed him from a fishing pier at Wrightsville Beach, N.C.

Storm warnings were hoisted north to Cape May, Mass., and Coast Guard stations went on 24-hour alert along the Long Island coast line where thousands of vacationers occupy cottages on the low dunes of sand-spit islands.

Police warned New York harbor shipping to batten down for a big blow expected this afternoon.

Waves "as tall as buildings" flung debris upon the beaches from Morehead City to Virginia Beach. Part of the beach front at Virginia Beach was washed away.

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—This great U.S. island base dug in tonight for one of the wildest typhoons ever recorded in the Pacific, only a few hours away.

CPR Earnings Down; Lumber Rates Raised

Canadian Pacific earnings are falling so far behind expectations that the company's maintenance program will have to be curtailed.

The announcement, made at Montreal by CPR Vice-President N. R. Crump, came almost simultaneously with a Board of Transport Commission decision confirming a $1,000,000 per year increase in freight rates on West Coast lumber shipped to Toronto, Montreal and other eastern Canadian markets.

The higher rates on lumber moving from B.C. to Eastern Canada were announced May 1 by the railways but were not charged pending decision on an appeal by B.C. Lumber Manufacturers' Association and other B.C. and Alberta trade associations.

Transport Board's decision today authorizes the railways to charge the May 1 tariff, thus boosting freight rate on lumber from Vancouver to Toronto by 14 cents per 100 pounds.

U.S. Navy Organized a Relief Armada of Ships and Planes

The U.S. navy organized a relief armada of ships and planes. U.S. transports carried a reinforced battalion of marines to aid in the rescue work, equipment for distilling water and large stores of food and medicine.

Ships, planes and emergency supplies of food and medicine flooded in to the disaster scene from at least seven countries.

The Canadian Red Cross announced that an emergency supply of 250 cases of clothing stored in Geneva, Switzerland, was en route to the islands.

U.S. Headquarters in Europe Gave the Greek Quakes "Overriding Priorities over All Other U.S. Operations in Europe"

All U.S. military exercises on the continent were cancelled.

Three British naval vessels were on hand. Other British warship, hastily took on supplies for the disaster area.

A steady stream of refugees poured into Argostolion, including walking injured and litter cases. Some of them were practically crawling.

"The people are pouring in and there is no place for them to sleep and nothing for them to eat," the U.S. official said. "Most of all we need water."

TERRIFYING

NAPLES, Italy (UP)—United States sixth fleet headquarters here released today a report sent back by a naval rescue team which described the destruction caused by earthquakes in the Ionian Islands off Greece as "terrifying, sickening and complete."

The graphic description said the city of Argostolion was "completely leveled." It told of men of all nationalities working side by side, despite language difficulties, to help the victims of the worst earthquake in modern Greek history.

The report told of scenes of devastation and of survivors so dazed they scarcely knew what had happened.

Bumper Wheat Crop

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada may harvest a 603,793,000-bushel wheat crop this year, the second highest in history, the bureau of statistics estimated today.
